

Motion Heard to Ban Brayton Confession in Murder Trial

A motion to suppress the admission of a confession made by Charles Brayton, also known as Charles Black, charged with the first degree murder of Mildred Steger at her Cottage Row apartment back in June 1959, was heard before Surrogate Judge Francis X. Tucker Wednesday.

Kingston Detective Gurnsey Burger, who questioned Black the day after the body of Miss Steger was found in her apartment at 11 Cottage Row, and prepared the statement, was the first witness called. He testified as to the happenings at the time the confession was obtained at police headquarters.

Psychiatrist Called
Dr. Werner M. Cohn, Kingston and Poughkeepsie psychiatrist, who examined Black the day after the statement was taken, was also subpoenaed and examined as to his findings.

Judge Tucker who presided in place of County Judge Raymond J. Mino, who was district attorney at the time of the murder, recessed the matter until today at 10 a. m. for the continuance of testimony by lay witnesses and excused Dr. Cohn until Friday at 11:30 a. m. when he will be cross-examined by District Attorney David W. Corwin.

The motion is unique in the fact that this is the first time that such an application has been made since a recent decision of the Supreme Court affecting the admission of a confession and whether a defendant has legally waived his right to counsel prior to the taking of a statement or confession.

Black, who formerly was known as Brayton, stands charged by the grand jury with the shooting of Miss Mildred Steger at her apartment 11 Cottage Row, on June 27, 1959. At the time of the death it was first considered "accidental."

Were Target Shooting
It was stated that Black, who lived in New York, and Miss Steger had been target shooting near Devil's Lake. They returned to her apartment and shortly after a shot was heard.

The death was not discovered until the next day and then Black reported the shooting as accidental. He said, after she had been accidentally shot, he spent the night in the apartment.

Taken to police headquarters Black gave a statement to the police, in which he admitted having shot Miss Steger. Later a first degree indictment was returned.

Black was examined and pronounced mentally unable to defend himself and was sent to Matteawan State Hospital where he remained for four years. He was then discharged as having recovered sufficiently to be able to understand his act and made a defense.

Since that time there have been numerous adjournments.

The case is on the September trial calendar to be heard before Surrogate Judge Tucker.

Appeared for Black

Appearing for Black is Alice Vanveem with Henry Rothblatt of New York City of counsel. The prosecution is represented by District Attorney Corwin.

Kingston Detective Burger testified to having been called to headquarters on June 28, 1959, after Black had been apprehended. A statement was taken in which Black reiterated the happenings at the apartment. He then held the shooting to be accidental. Detective Burger said he had informed Black that any statements made by him might be used against him in case of criminal action. Black then made the confession.

At the time Black said he had called his attorney, who was on his way to Kingston. However he continued to make a statement. Detective Burger said he questioned Black and typed the statement. He described Black as being "very responsive" to questions and very cooperative. He said Black appeared at headquarters in a bathrobe and bedroom slippers. At one

Klusmann Flown Home To Wife, Children

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Navy Lt. Charles F. Klusmann, the jet pilot shot down over Laos and captured by Communists nearly three months ago, is home again with his wife and two children today.

But the story of his escape to Thailand and safety is yet to be told, when the Navy so decrees. Klusmann, 30, was limping slightly and one arm was bandaged when he arrived at North Island Naval Air Station late Wednesday night. Those waiting to greet him included Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, commander in chief, Pacific Fleet, who had briefed him before the lieutenant's plane went down in Laos June 6.

Owes Apology
"Admiral, I owe you a big apology," Klusmann told Moorer. "You told me not to get shot down, and I did."

"That's all right, Chuck," said the admiral. "It's good to have you back."

The pilot and his comely, Auburn-haired wife, Sara, arrived at 11:20 p. m. from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., where she had gone to meet him earlier in the evening after his flight from Honolulu.

Attire Noted
Both wore leis as they came down the plane's ramp at San Diego. Klusmann was attired in khaki cotton trousers, a short-sleeved shirt and slippers. His wife clung firmly to his arm.

Navy officials said that he would be checked up immediately at a San Diego naval hospital for injuries he received when he was shot down.

Klusmann embraced his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Klusmann, of Arcadia, Calif., and placed a lei around his mother's neck.

No Reply
Asked by newsmen if he had any help in escaping or met any other Americans in prison, Klusmann replied: "I can't say anything about that."

Reliable sources in Vientiane, Laos, said today that Klusmann was helped by Meo tribesmen. A source said Klusmann was believed to have effected his escape alone, fled to the hills and met a small guerrilla unit of Meo tribesmen. They escorted him to a national army outpost that sent a signal to the American military at Udorn, Thailand, and a plane or helicopter was sent for Klusmann, the source said.

His escape to Thailand was made known Tuesday. Briefing officers said they hoped to determine later today when he will be permitted to grant interviews.

"It's great to be back," was his only comment when he reached Travis at 8:45 p. m. The Navy had said beforehand that there would be no interviews there either.

Red Hook Child Suffocates Under Tunnel Cave-In

A 12-year-old Dutchess County boy suffocated early Wednesday afternoon, as 50 volunteer firemen and a contingent of state troopers worked feverishly to dig him out from under a sand cave-in at Red Hook.

George Reid Jr., whose father is employed at the IBM in Kingston, was pronounced dead at the scene of the tragedy by Dr. William G. Thompson, Rhinebeck, an assistant medical examiner. Death was due to suffocation, authorities ruled.

Rhinebeck State Police said the boy, his brother David, 10, and three other neighborhood boys were playing in two adjacent tunnels when a cave-in of sand buried George. The other boys managed to scamper to safety and notify authorities.

Volunteer firemen from Red Hook with shovels and two front-end loaders, aided by State Police worked for about an hour digging away the sand bank before the boy's body was recovered. Artificial respiration failed to revive the victim.

The boy's father was at the scene and at times was supported by a Catholic priest as the grief-stricken parent watched rescue workers in frantic efforts to save the boy.

State Police Lt. Samuel J. Cordelle, who investigated with BCI Investigator Joseph Waters, said the tunnels in which the boys were playing were about four feet deep, three feet wide. The 20-foot sandbank, where the boy was buried alive, is behind a housing development in which the boys resided with their parents.

Restaurateurs In Chicago Asking Bomb Protection

CHICAGO (AP) — Frightened restaurant owners have called for federal action to halt the 2½-year assault on Chicago businesses by arsonists and bombers who have caused $2.75 million damage.

Laurence Buckmaster, executive director of the Chicago and Illinois Restaurant Association, appealed directly Wednesday to Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., head of the Senate Rackets Committee, to reopen hearings into the waves of restaurant attacks. The committee investigated an earlier outbreak of restaurant fires in 1958.

Bombed on Tuesday
The latest victim of the terrorists, Joseph Wilkos, whose restaurant was bombed Tuesday night, also called for federal assistance.

The bombing of Wilkos' restaurant was the 74th uninvolved bombing or arson fire in the Chicago area in the last 32 months. For Wilkos it was the third time in three months that one of his chain of restaurants has been bombed.

Wants FBI Probe
Wilkos, 60, said he telephoned Rep. Harold Collier, R-Ill., in Washington to ask the FBI to investigate.

Name 2 Whites In July Murder Of Lemuel Penn

DANIELSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Two white men have been named in a statement as the killers of Negro educator Lemuel Penn. The statement was read in court over vigorous objections of their attorney.

The FBI said the statement, read Wednesday at the trial of Joseph Howard Sims and Cecil William Myers, was signed by James S. Lackey, one of four men charged in the slaying.

Penn, of Washington, D.C., was shot to death early July 11 as he drove through north Georgia with two companions.

Although Lackey has repudiated the statement, it was admitted as evidence by Superior Court Judge Carley Skelton after an hours-long legal battle between defense attorneys James Hudson and a special prosecutor, Jeff Wayne.

As Wayne read the statement, the courtroom became deathly silent. The jury of white men listened impassively.

At one point, Wayne quoted: "Both Sims and Myers fired shotguns into the Negroes' car."

Halt Draft, Creeping Federal Control and Promote World Peace

By WALTER R. MEARS

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) —

Sen. Barry Goldwater, keynoting his campaign for the White House, promised today to end the draft, keep the peace and halt "the cancerous growth of the federal government."

"I do not intend to be a wartime president," the Republican presidential nominee declared.

And Goldwater said he would keep the peace without the draft.

"Republicans will end the draft altogether, and as soon as possible," he said. "That I promise you."

Scheme, He Says

Goldwater accused President Johnson of using the Selective Service System "for political and social schemes."

Returning to the ancestral home where he launched his two campaigns for the Senate, Goldwater said in a prepared speech: "The campaign we launch today is dedicated to progress through freedom, purpose through constitutional order."

Prescott authorities forecast a crowd of more than 35,000 — more than double the population of this one-time territorial capital in Arizona's hill country, 100 miles from Phoenix.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the Republican vice presidential nominee, was to be on hand for Goldwater's kickoff. Goldwater will return the favor Saturday in Lockport, N.Y.

Other Openers

In other opening shots of the Goldwater campaign against President Johnson:

The Arizona conservative accused Johnson of using "the outmoded and unfair military draft system for social schemes as well as military objectives."

He said Johnson's is an administration of "inertia in the street, restrained only by the plea that they wait until after election time to ignite violence once again."

He charged the President follows "the way of unilateral disarmament and appeasement in foreign affairs."

He said the growth of the federal government "must and shall be stopped." But he added "prudence requires that we proceed slowly and steadily in withdrawing the central government from its many unwarranted interventions in our private economic lives."

Says GOP Understands

Assailing Johnson's handling of the Selective Service program, Goldwater declared: "Republicans understand that the military forces need trained volunteers who make the military service a career."

"Republicans understand that the purpose of the military forces is not social or political — it is to help keep the peace of the world," he said. "To use military services for political or social schemes — as this administration does — is to drift closer to war on an ebbing tide of military strength."

Goldwater said the Republican party "is the peace party."

"I promise an administration that will keep the peace," he added, "and keep faith with freedom at the same time."

He did not spell out his charge

Kennedy Is Resigning Attorney Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy, off at last on an elective political career of his own, turns in his resignation as attorney general today.

Kennedy, who already has begun his campaign for the Senate in New York, meets with President Johnson to make official his departure from the Cabinet post, his assassinated brother gave him in 1961.

Fourth to Step Out

Kennedy 38, thus becomes the fourth member of the original New Frontier Cabinet to step out, and the first to leave since Johnson succeeded John F. Kennedy.

Preceding him were Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, now a Supreme Court justice; Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff, now a senator from Connecticut, and Postmaster General J. Edward Day, who quit to return to private life.

Six members of the original Kennedy Cabinet remain in their posts.

As long as a year ago, before President Kennedy was slain, Robert Kennedy said he would not stay on at the Justice Department for a second term.

Decides To Run

After his brother's death, Kennedy said he would remain on the job through this year's elections. But after Johnson foreclosed the vice presidency to him, he decided on the Senate race in New York, although he votes in Massachusetts and lives in Virginia.

Johnson has given no indication who will become the 6th attorney general. It is widely believed he will withhold his selection until after the Nov. 3 election. The man most widely mentioned to take over the Justice Department is Leon Jaworski, prominent Texas lawyer and friend of Johnson.

The acting attorney general will be Nicholas deB. Katzenbach, 42, the deputy attorney general, whom Kennedy has already strongly recommended to Johnson for the permanent job.

Bill to Provide Care For Aged Near Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders drove for passage today of a Social Security bill with a program of health care for the aged already written into it.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader, obtained an agreement to limit debate on all remaining amendments.

The first to be considered today was one by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., to raise the minimum Social Security payment from $10 to $15 a month. It was not expected to be adopted.

Mansfield said the measure might be passed and sent back to the House late today. If not, he said, final action will come Friday in for a three-day Labor Day weekend.

Biggest Fight Settled

The biggest Senate fight on the legislation was settled Wednesday with a dramatic 49-44 vote to add to it hospitalization and other health care benefits for persons over 65.

Increased retirement and other benefits would also be provided, and both the tax rates and the wage base on which they are levied would be raised to meet the added costs.

It was the first time either branch of Congress ever had agreed to write a health care program into the 20-year-old Social Security system.

The selected similar proposals in 1960 and 1962.

Charge Indonesia With Attack Plan

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman said today his government has decided to impose a state of emergency throughout Malaysia because of indications that Indonesia is preparing to "mount a big offensive" against this country.

Rahman presided at an emergency Cabinet session after high-level talks with British Commonwealth allies who pledged to increase military and economic aid following an airborne landing in Malaya Wednesday by about 30 heavily armed Indonesian paratroopers.

"We'll give all the help we can," said Reginald Maudling, British chancellor of the exchequer.

Two More Killed

Security forces today killed two more Indonesian paratroopers, the Defense Ministry announced.

It brought to four the number of Indonesians killed since an airborne attack in the Labis area, 105 miles southeast of this capital of Malaysia.

The ministry said one member of the security forces was killed and another wounded, the first Malaysian casualties.

The government accused "Communist or Indonesian provocateurs" of trying to incite fresh race rioting between Chinese and Malays in Singapore to divert attention from the airborne strike.

Design of Plan

Rahman told a news conference the state of emergency is designed to help the government deal with Malaysians acting as Indonesian agents.

Under the emergency, persons found in illegal possessions of arms and explosives would face the death sentence. Rahman also announced his government has asked the U.N. Security Council to take up what Malaysia has labeled "a naked aggression" by Indonesia.

Refers to Order

Asked to clarify his warning about a major invasion by Indonesia, Rahman referred to the order of President Sukarno on Wednesday canceling all leaves for members of the armed forces.

This was indicative of a "threat of further landings," Rahman told reporters.

Sukarno also is expected to make an important statement in the next day or so on his campaign to crush Malaysia, which he calls a device to perpetuate British colonialism in Southeast Asia.

The paratrooper landing Wednesday coincided with a renewal of racial violence between Malays and Chinese in Singapore where 23 persons were killed and 400 injured during four days of rioting last July. In the latest flareup, a Malay taxi driver was killed.

The government charged that four "Communist or Indonesian provocateurs" created the fresh racial incident to divert attention from the airborne assault.

Cite Paratroop Landing

The Malaysian government said the Indonesian paratroopers landed in the heart of Malaya 105 miles southeast of this capital before dawn Wednesday. Malaysian troops fanned out today in the jungle and scrub brush country in search of the Indonesian unit. One of the in-

Firemen Aid Sinking Cruiser, Volunteer Bailer Is Overcome

Firemen went to the rescue when a 25-foot cabin cruiser began sinking after scraping a submerged object in the Rondout Creek Wednesday night, and a volunteer, assisting in bailing out, was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from the pump unit's exhaust. He was taken to Kingston Hospital, by Fatum ambulance, after emergency oxygen was administered at the scene, was treated and discharged. Police and fire department, and ambulance oxygen units were used before his arrival at the hospital.

Kingston Trust Plans Merger With Marlboro National Bank

Kingston Trust Company and the First National Bank of Marlboro have announced a proposed merger of the two institutions. Agreement has been reached by the directors of both institutions and an application is pending before the Federal Reserve Board for approval of the merger.

The New York State Superintendent of Banks will entertain an application to approve the merger after its approval by the stockholders of the two institutions.

Approval of the merger will be submitted to the stockholders at special meetings to be held early in October.

The proposed merger plan provides that the present directors of both banks will constitute the board of directors of the merged bank.

Present directors of the Kingston Trust Company are:

Frank Compochiaro, Adelbert H. Chambers, Arthur A. Davis, Bernard A. Feeney, Conrad J. Gross, Arthur V. Hoornbeek, Dr. Joseph J. Jacobson, Ernest LeFevre, Alfred D. Ronder, George Rusk, Terry Staples, Richard J. Whalen.

Present directors of the First National Bank of Marlboro are: Howard C. Baker, Edmund W. Carpenter, Frank N. Johnston, John Manion, George Rusk, Walter R. Seaman.

Retention of all officers and operating personnel with the merged banks is planned. The merged bank will operate under the State Charter of Kingston Trust Company. It will be a member of the Federal Reserve System and Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. All present offices of both institutions will continue to be operated.

First National Bank of Marlboro has served that community since 1907. One banking office will be maintained on Route 9W at Marlboro. Edmund W. Carpenter has been associated with the Marlboro bank since 1912 and has been its president for the past 16 years. Frederick W. Robinson, cashier, has been with the Marlboro bank since 1948 and an officer since 1951.

Kingston Trust Company was founded in 1896 as the Kingston Bank. Shortly after the Civil War the bank joined the National Banking System, and was known as the Kingston National Bank. In 1919, the bank changed to a state-chartered bank and became known as the Kingston Trust Company. A branch was opened at 518 Broadway in 1920 and a branch was opened in Phoenix in 1953. There have been no other mergers or consolidations of either institution.

George Rusk, president of Kingston Trust Company, lived in Marlboro until 1958 and presently lives at Hurley.

The merger will provide the residents of the Marlboro area with many additional banking services which are not now available, particularly trust services.

Summer Fun May Damage Teeth, Dentist Warns

A thorough checkup to disclose any dental problems that may have developed during the summer should be a part of every child's back to school program, the president of the Third District Dental Society advised yesterday. Counties of Ulster, Albany, Columbia, Greene, Rensselaer, Schoharie and Sullivan constitute the district.

Dr. Bruno E. Amyot of Cohoes said that oral disorders could seriously hamper school work and cause absence from classes. "A dental checkup at this time is especially advisable because during the summer many youngsters relax the habits of good oral hygiene and proper diet that are essential to mouth health," Dr. Amyot noted. "A checkup now will enable the dentist to find and correct such disorders before they become serious."

Tooth structure of growing children changes so rapidly that defects may occur during vacation months without being noticed by child or parent, Dr. Amyot said. "Periodic observation is necessary both in the primary or 'baby' teeth of the very young child, and the second or permanent teeth of the older youngster, in guarding against decay, improper spacing, faulty tooth alignment, and potential gum disorders."

Dr. Amyot also warned that children's strenuous outdoor activity involving bumps and bruises sometimes causes chipped or broken teeth. "Such dental accidents should receive immediate attention to reduce the danger of greater difficulty later on," he pointed out.

Parents should schedule the dental checkup before youngsters become involved in home-work and after-school activities that make dental office visits more difficult, Dr. Amyot recommended. Saturday appointments are not easy to obtain during the school year, because that is when the dentist may be busiest with patients who cannot come during the work week, he said.

As a safety precaution, Dr. Amyot urged, seat belts should be properly used in all car trips, including those to and from the dental office and school. "Even a moderately quick stop," he said, "may propel a youngster forward. Unless he is securely strapped, his face may strike a hard surface, with possible result of tooth breaking or other dental injury."

Mt. Tremper

MT. TREMPER — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Byron attended the stock car races at Olive Bridge Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Umhey and two sons attended the clambake of the Stoney Clove Rod and Gun Club last Sunday.

Mrs. Sally Schoen of Kingston is spending some time at her cottage. Wednesday she was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Wilber and daughter Ruth.

Mrs. Anna Every is home from the hospital, convalescing from a broken leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Wilber won 25 ribbons for gladioli at the Rhinebeck Fair. They also were awarded the Dutchess Horticultural Society Trophy for having the most points in the Horticultural Division. Their daughters, Laurel and Robin received honorable mention in flower arrangement.

Mrs. John McKiernan of Tuckahoe, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Alta DeSilva for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Oure, who spent two weeks in Maine have returned home.

Mrs. Alta DeSilva and Mrs. Grover Hedges were dinner guests at the Mountain Breeze in Mt. Pleasant Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Hedges' birthday.

Hanging is almost extinct as a means of execution in the United States. There are only six states which still prescribe hanging as the method of execution. Out of the approximately 40 to 50 executions which take place annually, there is rarely more than one which is carried out by hanging. Hanging is still used in some parts of Great Britain.

4-H Club News

Wards to Mark 42nd Anniversary Of Club's Support

CHICAGO — One of the nation's oldest and largest mail order firms will soon welcome to the Windy City for the 42nd straight year, 4-H Club members who have done a noteworthy job in their particular specialty.

Montgomery Ward, sponsor of the National 4-H Home Economics awards program, was one of a handful of pioneer business enterprises that contributed funds back in 1922 to bring 4-H farm boys and girls to the city.

Those early tours and educational events were the forerunners of the National 4-H Club Congress presented annually by the Cooperative Extension Service and the National 4-H Service Committee.

The home economics project has been expanded and up-dated to provide latest information and methods for both city and rural 4-Hers, observes Lois Korslund, home economist for the 4-H Service Committee. Projects apply to most phases of modern homemaking applicable to apartment dwelling and farm homes as well.

Individual projects, says Miss Korslund, cover tasks such as balanced meal planning, room decoration, home sewing, arts and crafts, cooking, food preservation, home management and child care.

Members showing consistently high achievement are rewarded. Gold-filled medals are claimed by the four top county winners, and an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Club Congress goes to the state winner.

Six national champions will share equally in college scholarships totaling $3,000.

All winners are named by the county or state Extension Service.

Room With Few Windows

PUNAT, Yugoslavia (AP) — Most houses on the northern Adriatic island of Krk have few windows, and Napoleon is blamed for it. During his rule over the area there was a tax based on the number of windows. Residents took to putting up homes with as few windows as possible, and the old custom still persists.

Three Children Perish in Fire, Suspect Matches

MALONE, N. Y. (AP) — Three children lost their lives Wednesday in a barn fire that State Police say may have been started because one was playing with matches.

The children were Robert Mallette, 9, his sister, Darlene, 4, and David Bushey, 9.

A pet dog died with them.

The fire destroyed the barn of Mason Mallette, father of the Mallette children, near Constable, about 10 miles north of here.

Troopers reported that a third Mallette child, Cathy, 6, told them "Bobby was playing with matches." But Cathy was hysterical and could be mistaken.

The Bushey boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bushey, neighbors of the Mallettes.

Charles A. Trombley, of Constable, a passerby, told police he tried unsuccessfully to knock down a side door to the barn to reach the children after he heard them screaming inside.

When he first spotted the fire, he said, he also saw a girl, believed to be Cathy, run from it. Investigators said Mrs. Mallette had seen the barn on fire but thought that the children were playing in the woods nearby.

Firemen found the bodies under a charred hay pile.

The word "scallion" comes from Ascalon, an ancient Palestine port which shipped onions to the Mediterranean markets.

SCHOONMAKER RESIDENCE

Historic House To Be Included In Accord Tour

One of the historic houses to be included on this year's Stone House Day tours in the Accord area will be the John L. Schoonmaker Jr. residence, one mile east of Accord.

The annual event sponsored by the Rochester Reformed Church will be held Saturday, Oct. 10 with tours originating from the church.

The Schoonmakers' three children, Daniel, David and Diane are the sixth generation to live in the old stone mansion.

The walls are of stone, with corners and front faced with brick, surrounded by giant trees and velvety lawns. It is one of the finest old places in the Town of Rochester. It was built in 1787 as a stone in the wall attests. The builder is thought to have been John D. Schoonmaker, the great, great grandfather of the present owner.

The farm belonging to the estate is one of the large sweet corn and vegetable farms in the valley. Also, young Holstein heifers are raised which later are the "milk producers" for the adjoining dairy farm, also owned by John Jr., at New Paltz.

Once Was Store

The house with every inch in use, consists of four stories from cellar to attic. The cellar at one time, served as a store—selling vegetables to those who stopped by, when traveling the D & H Canal which lies 50 yards behind the house.

The first floor has a large foyer with pier mirror and antiques which are also seen throughout each room in the home. The original beams adorn the ceilings in every room while four fireplace mantels are also in view.

Two large living rooms and a step down to the dining room, with several original window panes, proceeding to the country kitchen will be shown to the public on Oct. 10. Three stairways lead to the eight bedrooms with original wide board flooring and these rooms are furnished in a Colonial manner. The doorway leading to the attic is most interesting, showing vividly the construction of the walls. Hand hewn beams, hand cut nails, original doors and hardware add to the uniqueness of this home.

Kingston Schools Open Wednesday, Sept. 9 at 8:30

Kingston City Schools (Consolidated) will open Wednesday, Sept. 9 for all children in elementary, junior and senior high school grades.

Pupils in kindergarten through sixth grade will start classes 8:45 a. m. School will be in session until 3 p. m. for all except kindergarten children, who will report for a half day.

There will be a lunch period in grades one through six from 11:15 a. m. until 12:30 p. m. Children will be allowed in the school buildings at 8:50 a. m.

Students who have previously attended J. Watson Bailey Junior High School, Myron J. Michael Junior High School or Kingston High School will report to their last semester's home room 8:30 a. m. Wednesday for new home room assignments and class schedules. They will be dismissed 11:30 a. m.

Students who will be attending any of the three secondary schools for the first time will report to the auditoriums of those schools for orientation meetings 12:30 p. m. Dismissal will be at 3:15 p. m.

Parents who have moved into the Kingston District during the summer and have children eligible for entrance to kindergarten are asked to register their children opening day.

To be eligible for kindergarten a child must be at least 4 years, 9 months of age as of Sept. 8, 1964 or 5 years of age as of Dec. 8, 1964.

All other elementary school age children new to the school must report to the principal's office with transfer records.

The Kingston Board of Education furnishes all textbooks and necessary supplies used in the regular school program.

School officials ask parents to mark their children's names on outer clothing such as sweaters, jackets, raincoats, rubbers, hats and lunch boxes.

Former Pig Farmer To Oppose Millionaires

SECAUCUS, N.J. (AP) — Henry Krajewski, the former pig farmer, has made it official.

He'll be a presidential candidate under the Poor Man's party banner "against two millionaires," he said Wednesday.

The semi-retired tavern owner said he has nothing against President Johnson or his Republican opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater, except that "they've been politicians too long."

Krajewski, 52, a father of five, organized the Poor Man's party in 1949 and has run for president in 1952, 1956 and 1960. He's also campaigned for U. S. senator, governor and a variety of local offices, losing every time.

Negro Leader Urges Vote for Moderate

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Negro leader is urging members of his race to vote for a white moderate in a three-man race for the seat of Fulton Superior Court Judge Durwood T. Pye.

A. T. Walden, judge of the Atlanta Traffic Court, said in effect, in a letter to Negro voters, that a vote for Negro attorney Donald Hollowell would be wasted and merely help to elect Pye, who has been criticized for handing out stiff sentences to defendants in civil rights cases.

Negroes are urged by Walden to vote for white candidate Paul Webb Jr.

Art Exhibit Continues Through September 12

The exhibit of pen-and-ink sketches by Joel Kornblatt, now on display at the Artcraft Gallery, has been held over for another week until Sept. 12 because of many requests. It was announced today by Miss Charlotte McGraw, director.

Many of the sketches—some whimsical and some deeply moving—depict life during the depression era. Mr. Kornblatt, a hairdresser, sketches as a hobby. He moved to Kingston from New York City two years ago. Many of his impressions date from the time when, as a student in a barber school, he practiced his trade on the human derelicts who drifted in for a free haircut and shave. The gallery is open daily except Sunday, 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. No admission is charged.

Goldwater Promotion

CODY, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming House Speaker Marlin Kurtz of Cody is pumping gold water on behalf of a Republican victory in November.

The GOP legislator operates a pipe supply company in Cody and for advertising purposes has a large pump outside which keeps a constant stream of gold-colored water circulating in a tank.

A sign under the pump reads: "Pumping for Goldwater."

SAFE LABOR DAY

Labor Day is a youthful institution, as national holidays go. But its place in the national life is secured and honored. It provides a formal and well-earned salute to all working people.

Labor Day has another special characteristic. It gives most of us a three-day holiday and millions take advantage of it to journey in search of new sights and scenes or to return to favored vacation spots. Labor Day has become a day of fun, relaxation and sports.

Unhappily, however, that bright prospect is not realized for an appallingly large number of us. They are the victims of Labor Day's toll of deaths and injuries. The mishandled automobile becomes a killer of almost warlike dimension. The toll of drownings steadily mount and ignorance or disregard of the rules and precautions that are essential to safe boating are big factors in this.

The tragic part of it all is that the vast majority of these and other accidents are totally unnecessary. They don't just happen—careless, thoughtless and uninformed human beings make them happen. If all of us this coming Labor Day period would use simple rudimentary caution wherever we go and whatever we do, the expected accident toll would be reduced spectacularly.

OTHERS HAVE CULTURE

There is one export that will have no effect upon the balance of payments problem but which may return dividends to the nation for many years to come.

The resource is the most valuable one we have—our young men and women—and the consequence of their going abroad is more than the hoped-for strengthening of democracy and frustration of communism. It is a better understanding of our own culture as well as others, a widening of our whole national horizon.

The popular idea of the Peace Corps is the sending of young Americans (and a few older ones, too) overseas to help modernize underdeveloped countries. This is a misconception, according to one young man who served in the corps in the Philippines.

"The problem with this image," writes David Szanton, now a student at the University of Chicago, "is that most Americans tend to think of an 'underdeveloped' country as a 'tabula rasa,' a nearly blank slate, in which modern (American) institutions need only be introduced, and that good will, hard work and technical know-how will fast see it through to prosperity."

"We forget," he says, "that these countries are 'underdeveloped' only in terms of our own specific form of economic organization. They have highly complex, if primitive, economic systems, as well as political, social, artistic and religious traditions often far older than our own."

"Such a community in which I worked," says David, "was an extremely complex aggregate of individuals, families and larger groupings, each with their own interest to protect and advance, highly sophisticated in motivation and behavior, together creating a culture unlike anything we had known in America."

Such a community is no "blank slate." In fact, if the volunteer is to be successful at all in helping these people with their problems, it is he who must be the blank slate. He must stand still, look and listen. He must, says this young man who was there, be willing to say, "I know nothing. Tell me, teach me about your community."

REASSURING WORD

No angry crowds of dispossessed workers have yet broken into a factory and smashed a computer, as Englishmen did when the first spinning machines were introduced in the 18th century. Nor are they likely to.

Yet the prospect of automation taking over almost all unskilled or routine jobs is frightening to many people. If they could postpone the day, they would.

A frequent reply to doubts about the benefits of automation is that the same

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
THE BUREAUCRATS EYE THE PENSION FUNDS

If earlier worker retirement and increased pensions are to be the big features of the new union contracts, the stock market should get a fillip throughout the Autumn months from pension fund buying. This will certainly suit the Johnson Administration to a "T," for a buoyant Wall Street is absolutely essential to the LBJ strategy for winning the election on the "peace, prosperity and people" slogan.

The unions should be warned, however, that, once the election is over, the same Administration which hopes to benefit politically from pension fund buying may be ready to stage a legislative drive to put the funds under close Federal regulation. There are currently some $70 billion in various welfare and pension plan reserves, and if the Federal government could take its cut for helping to control the operation of the plans, it would help keep many a bureaucrat in bread and butter—and many a union or company paying money for paper work that might better go to pension beneficiaries.

With its usual keen nose for bureaucratic threats, the United Mine Workers of America organization has already started a move to head off any post-election attempt to put private pension plans under Federal control. The stand taken by the miners is that there are plenty of laws on the books to penalize and prevent fraud and embezzlement in pension plan administration. They point to the fact that a U.S. District Court in Chicago has just recently sentenced the Teamsters Union's Jimmy Hoffa to five years in prison and fined him $10,000 on conviction in a union pension fraud case.

What the miners fear—and they think this fear should be a universal one in union circles—is that if welfare plans are to be placed under government control, as is now projected by a Johnson task force, the big private insurance companies might be called in by Washington to administer funds under Federal supervision. This, so the coal miners say, would increase the costs of administration by a great deal.

To back up this contention, the United Mine Workers recall that when John L. Lewis was originally setting up the UMW Welfare and Retirement Fund, he asked private insurance companies to specify the cost of overseeing a pension operation. The replies varied, running from ten to fifteen per cent of total revenues. Lewis decided to put the UMW fund, which operates on a current basis, under three trustees, one drawn from the union, one from among the coal operators, and a "neutral" who would be mutually acceptable to both workers and mine owners. The neutral, Josephine Roche of Colorado, is the designated administrative officer of the UMW fund—and under her "bare-boned austerity" regime the cost of seeing to it that the miners get their welfare and pension money runs to something around three per cent of total revenue. The miners have had to open their pension plan books to federal agencies from time to time, which means they have been operating in a gold fish bowl. This being the case, they see no sense in being "supervised" by bureaucrats out of a big extra sum of money, amounting to from seven to twelve per cent of revenues, that is now going to coal miners and their families.

The UMW President Emeritus, John L. Lewis, recently turned up on the White House list of those who have been chosen for public honors for the quality of their citizenship. This doesn't mean that he doesn't approve of the institution of a White House list, which seems to him something more appropriate to a royalist Britain than to democratic America, where individuals should be aware of having their critical teeth pulled by White House favors. But if we are going to have a public honors list, John L. Lewis deserves to be on it. He has been keenly aware that a healthy free enterprise system is essential to union freedom. He has favored cost-cutting mine automation, he has tried to keep the government out of the manufacture of electricity from atomic power. Now he wants to keep the federal government from making a "money-power grab" at pension fund administration. He has earned his honors. (Copyright, 1964, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The DOCTOR SAYS

Soap Is First Step
To Ridding Acne Blight
BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

You would almost think that acne was a normal condition of growing up—it is so widespread. About 75 per cent of all teen-agers have it, and millions of dollars are expended each year on preparations to cure it.

With summertime's exposure to the sun, the acne tends to disappear, but the acne season is fast approaching again.

Its cause is a sudden increase in the activity of the oil glands of the skin. It starts in the early teens and subsides spontaneously in the early 20s. Along with the red pimples there are usually blackheads and whiteheads.

The whiteheads may be white plugs of hardened oil similar to the blackheads or they may be pustules caused by squeezing a pimple and thus infecting it. If the infection involves the deeper layers of the skin, there may be some scarring and pitting of the face.

All treatment begins with the admonition not to squeeze or pick at these pimples and to wash the face with soap at least twice a day. Recent experiments showed that washing with a good facial soap brought about some improvement but the use of a soap that contains hexachlorophene gave even better results. After washing, rinse with cold water and pat the face dry with a clean towel that is used by no one else.

Acne lotions or creams may be applied at night after washing, but there is a difference of opinion among authorities as to whether they produce any benefits. In any case, girls should avoid cold creams, cleansing creams and make-up because they may aggravate the problem. It is best not to use any local applications that have not been specifically approved by your doctor. Over-treatment is as bad as neglect.

Various female sex hormones, taken internally, have been found to suppress oiliness. Antibiotics have been used to control infection, but they cannot be recommended because they would have to be used over too long a period. They are likely to produce undesirable side effects when so used.

Although a diet low in sugars and fats is recommended, evidence of its effectiveness is hard to find. If you are convinced that some food makes your own acne worse, avoid it. But don't expect your friends to get the same results. It is much more important to avoid iodized salt and cough medicines that contain potassium iodide.

thing will happen that has happened throughout the Industrial Revolution: the new machines will eventually create more jobs than they do away with.

Whether this will be proved true in the age of automation remains to be seen. There are some facts that indicate it will, however.

One broadcasting network, for instance, has announced that it will put a new electronic computer into operation on election night this year. Including everyone assembling information to be programmed into the master brain, the efforts of no less than 600 people will be required for the care and feeding of this one electronic thinking machine.

A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Campaign

Washington News

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Politically speaking, there are two Barry Goldwaters. One hasn't much liking for the necessary business of meeting the public. The other is fascinated by the mechanics of organization politics.

It would be a great mistake to ignore the latter while giving attention to the former. The testimony of political intimates is that Senator Goldwater regards the Republican party as having been decrepit, organizationally, for a long time.

He intends to do something about it, not just for this election, but just for the conservative cause. He is the party's long pull no matter who is in the ascendancy.

Not that he thinks the conservative cause would suffer in a party rebuilding. On the contrary, Goldwater is said to feel that if the GOP had had solid organizational footing in years past, it would have dared to nominate and could have elected conservative candidates for president long before he won party honors.

HIS THEORY IS THAT REPUBLICANS went outside "normal" conservative ranks to choose candidates like Wendell Wilkie and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower because their broad appeal was needed to compensate for the party's organizational weakness.

Goldwater wants a party with the kind of precinct-level muscle and year-in-year-out attention to duty which the Democrats are famed for. He sees no reason Democrats should be allowed largely to preempt this field.

Given this interest, his wholesale cleanup of the Republican National Committee was inevitable. He is thinking of how the committee ought to function in the long span after the election.

IT WAS PROBABLY INEVITABLE, TOO, that the Goldwater people's eyes should fall favorably on a project nursed along for years by Raymond Humphreys, a veteran National Committee organizer who has spent much time helping to advance the GOP's southern fortunes.

There is no secret about Humphreys' project. He is establishing Republican vote quotas for all 185,000 precincts in the United States. Quotas already are printed up for the 50 states and the 3,072 counties, but they are not yet fixed for something over half the precincts.

The target selected are sufficiently large so that if fully met Goldwater would win all 50 states. Not even the greatest Goldwater optimist talks in those terms. But one committee officer sees great potential value in setting specific goals: "Tell a bunch of precinct workers to get out and help carry their state and that's one thing. Tell one and then another and another—to boost his precinct vote from 24 in 1960 to 31 in 1964 and he has something to shoot at."

RIGHT NOW HUMPHREYS, dashing about the country with John Grenier, the National Committee's executive director, is selling his project hard to state leaders in a series of regional meetings.

His quotas at state and county levels take account of area voting history, size of the eligible vote, the numbers who did not vote last time and the vote total calculated to produce a safe margin for 1964. In one big state, the quota calls for boosting the GOP vote nearly 600,000 over 1960.

The Humphreys project assumes a huge array of precinct manpower, constant pressure from higher levels, and belief in the practicability of the goals.

One of the reasons organization-minded Goldwater and his party chiefs are giving Humphreys a big try is that it helped produce congressional winners in Iowa, Pennsylvania and North Carolina (where Charles Jonas survived in 1962 in a gerrymandered area). Post-election check showed quotas almost perfectly in one North Carolina county.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

The other day I had an interesting visitor, Fred (Fritz) Albrecht, brother of Hank Albrecht, of 70 Ravine Street. He brought me a number of D & H picture postal cards to see. He is a retired plumber and has passed his 84th birthday and is spry and full of fun. He worked on the run from Rondout to Rosendale in his youth. A number of his Delaware and Hudson Canal pictures were of a family, with a lady steering the barge, the youngsters sitting on the mules and the father walking nearby, all looked contented. Of course these pictures were taken on a nice day, and what could be pleasanter than a day on the canal. One barge was called "Little Freddie." I notice a number of these pictures were photographed by V. Porter-Photo of Ellenville.

A dignified gentleman was sitting at the Jacobs Lock on one picture, and they called him "Old Ben" Hendrix. Mr. Albrecht said he was the tender of the lock. He also had a picture of a Weigh Lock of the D & H Canal. One very interesting picture is of "Last boat loaded, boat No. 1107, Frank Hinsberger, captain. It was loaded Nov. 5, 1898, bringing the canal to a close." It was explained on the picture. It seems that the canal was not doing so well for some 20 years before it closed. Another picture was of the Honesdale Basin, where many canal barges and boats were waiting to be loaded.

One may wonder where the children went to school. Mr. Albrecht told me about the Canal's Night School held right here at No. 2 school near Community College. It was held only in winter, and men and children went there. He mentioned a Mr. Stickles and Mr. Murdock as teachers. He said, teacher Murdock was a brother to Mr. Murdock at the light house.

I just received an item from the Cornwall Local, of Cornwall,

Business Men Are Worrying Over Humphrey's Record

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Many business men, as they examine in detail the record of Sen. Hubert Humphrey, are beginning to get worried about what kind of Administration the country would face if the Minnesota Senator, now a Vice-Presidential nominee on the Democratic party ticket, some day should have to assume the Presidential office in the White House.

Mr. Humphrey was the co-founder of Americans for Democratic Action, and has been its national vice-chairman for many years. This organization, in the eyes of many business men, is just as much an "extremist" group as the John Birch Society, though the views of the two organizations are directly opposite.

The Minnesota Senator has lined up almost always with the union, labor side in matters of legislation. The Committee on Political Education of the AFL-CIO, which before every election issues its ratings on Republican and Democratic members of Congress, has for many years given Sen. Humphrey a highly favorable rating for his position on various issues affecting labor. The organization usually lists as "right" or "wrong" those Senators who, in its opinion, favor or oppose the demands of the AFL-CIO. In the last two Congresses, the Minnesota Senator has been listed as having a 100 per cent record in behalf of labor.

The Americans for Democratic Action—which is usually on the radical side of public questions—also gave Mr. Humphrey a 100 per cent rating on selected issues in which that organization is interested.

There has been no more staunch a supporter of organized labor in Congress than Sen. Humphrey. He has opposed any efforts to impose restrictions on labor unions. He has voted against all measures that would authorize injunctions against strikes or would strengthen laws against secondary boycotts. At the time that the Taft-Hartley Act—the present national labor relations law—was passed, Mr. Humphrey called it a "profoundly reactionary" statute. He said: "The act is worse than reactionary in the sense of seeking to reinstate a one-sided individualism applicable to the worker but not to the employer."

The Senator was particularly opposed to the provisions which forbade a "closed shop." He made it clear that he believed the "closed shop"—which means compulsory unionization—should be made lawful. The Minnesota Senator has voted against legislation to give union members the right to sue in Federal courts whenever there is misuse of union funds. He also voted against an amendment to the McClellan bill designed to protect union members against unfair actions by their unions.

On the subject of economic policy, Sen. Humphrey has frequently indicated that he does not think the public debt figures by themselves are of great importance. He continuously supports the deficit-spending theories. Also, in a speech in 1960, he said that "the Federal tax laws are rigged against the middle and low-income families—and for the big corporations."

In various key votes in the Senate on economic and tax matters, Sen. Humphrey has voted against reducing the depletion allowances on oil and gas and in favor of repealing the 4 per cent tax credit on dividend income. He voted in favor of establishing a 20 per cent withholding tax on income from interest and dividends. He has consistently supported measures to raise minimum wages, to increase payroll deductions for Social Security and to increase the wage base on which the tax is calculated.

In the field of public power, Mr. Humphrey was the author of a proposal to give rural electric co-operatives preference in obtaining Federal licenses for the use of atomic energy to create electric power. He has favored public and community co-operative control of electric power. He said in a speech: "I have no reservations whatsoever about the continued viability of construction of public generation and transmission facilities and the marketing of Federal power under the preference clause."

Generally speaking, Mr. Humphrey has almost always voted for large appropriations for public works and welfare projects. The Senator also has been an ardent advocate of "civil rights" measures, but voted against a proposal to give defendants the right to demand jury trials when charged with criminal contempt in "civil rights" cases.

While President Johnson, when serving in the Senate, was largely opposed to many of Mr. Humphrey's ideas. It may be that the President now has a feeling in his heart that the Minnesota Senator is right, and hence picked him for the Vice-Presidential nomination. Mr. Humphrey no doubt will mobilize for the Democratic ticket the enthusiastic and vigorous support, not only of nationwide labor organizations but of the "liberal" and radical and socialist groups throughout the country. An Associated Press Series

Views of President Johnson Presented on Various Issues

The views of President Lyndon B. Johnson on a variety of topical issues is being presented in a series of articles compiled by the Associated Press.

The opinions expressed have been taken from the President's speeches, magazine articles, news conferences and other public remarks and messages. The third installment today includes his stand on economy and taxes, education, foreign aid and foreign policy.

The next part will cover labor, NATO, nuclear policy and poverty.

ECONOMY AND TAXES

On March 6, 1958, discussing a Democratic proposal to speed up public works to ease the recession, Johnson told the Senate:

"Congress has granted complete authority and ample funds for a wide range of construction projects, both civil and military. These funds at the present time are being spent on the basis of a normal economy."

"But there is nothing normal about an economy which cannot find jobs for five million willing workers. There is nothing normal about a situation in which we are losing the productive capacity of five million men and women."

In an April 29, 1959, speech before the U.S. chamber of Commerce in Washington, he said:

"I believe that any year is one in which the government should strive to put its book in balance. I do not believe this is a policy which should be trotted out of the closet only when a presidential election is in the offing."

On April 28, 1964, speaking to a White House dinner for business leaders, Johnson said:

"It is too early to make firm promises on further tax cuts. But if this one is a success—as I have every reason to believe it will be—in building production, creating jobs, raising profits, and generating revenues to balance the budget, then I see another tax cut a few years down the road."

"But we can move to this second round of tax reduction only if we behave ourselves this year. We can't let our costs creep up—and we can't let our prices creep up. This is where the decisions of leaders in business and leaders in labor are crucial."

"In the case of wages, we need to match the good record of the past three years and keep the increases in line with the average productivity gain for the economy as a whole. And average prices have to be kept stable. This will mean a good increase in real earnings for labor. And as our sales continue to rise, it will mean a good increase in profits for you."

EDUCATION

In a speech before the United Savings & Loan League Convention in Dallas, Tex., Nov. 11, 1959, he said the next struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union "is going to be a battle of brains instead of brawn." Johnson said Americans are losing too much talent because students are unable to complete more than a high school education.

Urging the savings and loan officials to support his plan for FHA-type loans to college students, he said, "Our students are just as good security as our houses. If they can be given assistance locally, that's fine. If the states can do it, that's fine. If they can't, then it is logical for Congress to act."

FOREIGN AID

In a luncheon speech at Tyler, Tex., Aug. 21, 1953, Johnson said unless the situation changes and "some nations put their houses in order, I have voted for my last foreign aid bill. We will have to find a stopping point on foreign aid spending before we bleed ourselves white."

In his message to Congress on foreign aid March 18, 1964, President Johnson said:

"To those nations which do commit themselves to progress under freedom, help from us and from others can provide the margin of difference between failures and success."

"We will be laying up a harvest of woe for us and our children if we shrink from the task of grappling in the world community with poverty and ignorance."

"These are the grim recruiting sergeants of communism. They flourish wherever we falter. If we default on our obligations, communism will expand its ambitions."

FOREIGN POLICY

In a speech Oct. 23, 1952, in Houston, Tex., Johnson said: "If anywhere in the world—by any means, open or concealed—communism trespasses upon the soil of the free world, we should unleash all the power at our command upon the vitals of the Soviet Union."

In a May 25, 1959, speech to the graduate class at Southwest Texas State College, San Marcos, Johnson said:

"We can no longer afford the luxury of a smug and self-assured foreign policy. We can no longer go out into the world with a spray-gun in front of us, an electric refrigerator and bathtub behind us, and a native interpreter between us and the people to whom we carry the message of freedom."

"American must put on its working clothes, roll up its sleeves and walk down the highway of the world alongside the other peoples of the earth who aspire to rise above the status of their birth."

In his first speech before a joint session of Congress as President, Nov. 27, 1963, Johnson said:

"In this age when there can be no losers in peace and no victors in war, we must recognize the obligation to match national strength with national restraint. We must be prepared at one and the same time for both the confrontation of power and the limitation of power. We must be ready to defend the national interest and to negotiate the common interest. This is the path that we shall continue to pursue."

In a television interview, March 15, 1964, he said:

"As long as we are living in a world with 120 nations we have got to realize that we have got

BERRY'S WORLD

"Here comes what I would call 'a live one!'"

120 foreign policies. I realize that we have discouraging incidents from time to time, and we have problems, and because we try to help with those problems, sometimes the role of the peacemaker is not a very happy one. And so, for that reason, we have to do things that we don't want to do sometimes, and are rather irritating — and sometimes we are abused because we do them, and sometimes we are misunderstood. But if the final result is good, then our action is justified."

Appoints Auburn Woman

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today appointed Mrs. Marion Blanchard Kennedy of Auburn, to the Board of Trustees of Auburn Community College of the State University of New York for a term ending June 30, 1973.

Members serve without salary. Mrs. Kennedy, who has published numerous short stories, succeeds Dr. Anthony L. Cimildora of Auburn, whose term expired June 30.

Paradox at Political Parleys

Both Parties Stress Unity, Neither Really Satisfied

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The word "unity" was severely strained at the state conventions of the Republicans and Democrats this week.

While the term was one of the most popular at both gatherings, conflicts and divisions continued in both parties after the sessions in New York City ended.

The Republicans gave solid backing to Sen. Kenneth B. Keating but remained sharply divided over the question of supporting the party's national ticket.

The Democrats were enthusiastic in their pledges of all-out support to President Johnson, but their choice of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as a U.S. Senate candidate left a good deal of dissent.

No Comment
The GOP state convention adopted a resolution of support for the Goldwater-Miller ticket but did so without comment or discussion. Goldwater's name was scarcely mentioned throughout the long meeting.

There were none of the enthusiastic references to the national ticket that are customary at state political gatherings in a presidential election year. A curtain behind the rostrum at the Democratic state convention bore giant pictures of President Johnson and his running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

Bare of Signs
Behind the speaker's stand at the Republican event, there was a red curtain bare of any signs or pictures.

There were some Goldwater and Miller pictures along the sides of the hall. But they were placed in a manner that kept them out of pictures of the principal at the convention.

Keating and Sen. Jacob K. Javits have refused to endorse Goldwater. Gov. Rockefeller has said he is supporting the national ticket but has given no indication of what his role will be in the Goldwater campaign in New York State.

No Unanimity
Keating was re-nominated by acclamation at the Republican convention. Later the Democratic convention, Rep. Samuel S. Stratton passed up an opportunity to recommend a unanimous vote for Kennedy.

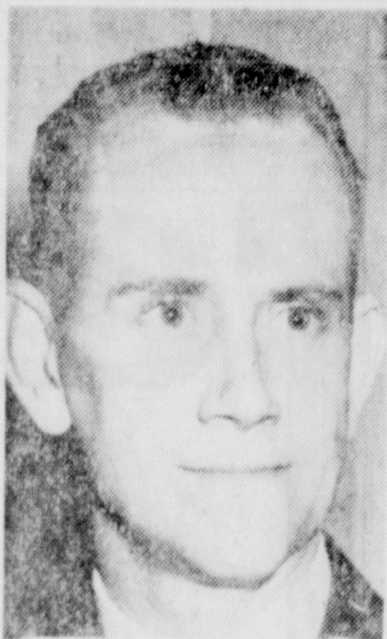

Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, who had considered running for the Senate on the Conservative Party ticket, appeared at the Republican convention in a unity demonstration but did not endorse Keating.

Stratton appeared before the Democratic convention after his defeat also in what was intended to be a display of unity, but did not endorse Kennedy.

Forgot Buttons
Johnson buttons of all sizes and shapes were worn prominently by those on the dais at the Democratic state convention. There wasn't a single Goldwater button on the coat lapels of the top Republicans at their party event.

And three top leaders will be absent when the GOP presidential nominee, Rep. William E. Miller, opens his campaign formally Saturday at his home city of Lockport.

Rockefeller turned down an invitation. Javits and Keating were not invited.

Matthew F. Hasbrouck Jr.

Stone Ridge Man Named to Manage Brokerage Branch

Matthew F. Hasbrouck Jr., of Stone Ridge, has accepted a position as manager of the Rochester branch of Hayden, Stone, Inc., a member firm of the New York Stock Exchange, effective Sept. 1.

Hasbrouck joined Morgan Davis and Co. in 1959 as Kingston branch manager and continued in that position following that firm's merger in April, 1961, with Wood, Walker and Co., which now maintains its local branch office at 52 Main Street.

Prior to coming to Morgan Davis, he was employed by Sutro Brothers and Co., brokerage firm, in New York City, Key West, Fla. and Albany, N. Y. He served many years as a captain in the U.S. Air Force Intelligence. He attended Kingston High School, Tufts College, University of Omaha and Marist College.

Hasbrouck was a vice president of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, served as chairman of the National Legislative Affairs Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, was a member of the Association and of the board of directors of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County.

Hayden, Stone, Inc., seventh largest brokerage firm, has its main office in New York City and maintains 69 branch offices throughout the world.

Hasbrouck, his wife, Janet, and children Matthew III and Karen Lynne, will make their home in Webster, a suburb of Rochester.

Not a Requirement

Neither the U.S. Constitution nor any statutes require the chief justice to administer the oath of office at a presidential inauguration or for the associate justices to stand by.

Dear Abby . . .

The Picture Might Lie!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What can I do with a husband who talks of nothing but his ailments? He is tall, handsome and the picture of health. He has been examined by experts, who all say he is as fit as a fiddle. Yet he has driven away almost all his friends because he complains so much. He even tells the clerks in stores about his aches and pains. If we go on a trip, all he remembers about it afterwards are the places where he had the headaches. I am —

GETTING DESPERATE

DEAR GETTING: If your husband continues to complain about his health after the experts affirm that he is as "fit as a fiddle," quit fiddling around and take the cue. Ask one of those experts to recommend another expert—in the psychiatry department. Fiddles on occasion have been known to snap a string.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of married children who are always taking advantage of their parents? They bring their children to us so we can baby-sit with them, and they spend the week-ends fishing or going away somewhere.

They all work and could well afford to hire someone to sit with their children. They could also ask their parents to go with them once in a while, but they never think of it. I hope you'll print this because they read your column and it would do them good to know how selfish they are.

GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: They may be selfish but you don't deserve much sympathy. Why don't you tell THEM that you are not a free baby-sitting service? They are probably under the impression that you enjoy it because you haven't complained.

DEAR ABBY: Tell Joe, who couldn't seem to stick with a diet, that his idea of going to jail for 30 days and living on bread and water was not so dumb. If he has all that money for doctors, why not get himself a few acres of land in an out-of-the-way place and build his own "jail"? He could get a time lock and lock himself in with only a jug of water, a few oranges and some carrots. I've had a weight problem for years and that's what I do. I built myself a little place near Palm Springs, and when I put on about ten extra pounds, I lock myself in for 30 hours at a crack. I am 56 and in fine shape. If Joe lives anywhere near Palm Springs, Calif., he is welcome to use my "jail."

WEIGHTLESS

CONFIDENTIAL TO HERB: If a woman is able to make a man deliciously happy or wretchedly sad — he's still young.

Lions Club Hears About the Needs Of Local Library

Donald Sager, director of the Kingston City Library at the Tuesday meeting of the Kingston Lions Club promised to "burn the wallpaper off the walls," in his description of present condition of the library, a situation of "the English language is inadequate to describe."

Noting that the library is one of the lowest supported libraries in the county, region, state and United States in terms of per capita expenditure, he outlined some of the steps the library had taken to obtain federal aid.

Failed to Gain Aid

He said that the library had failed to gain this aid because its tax support was so far below standard. He pointed out that libraries are essentially a local problem, and that people have ignored their responsibility to help improve the library for too long.

Sager gave some examples of tax waste through duplication of effort in finding information which could be located in the library. He explained that the library was an investment, for it eliminated duplication and saved time.

He then described many resources and services at the library, including the Lions Club Dial-a-book program, which permits people to have books mailed to them free of charge, courtesy of the Lions Club. But he noted that the resources of the library fall far short of meeting the needs of this community.

Sager noted the dilemma of the library.

In order to increase usage, it had to obtain more funds, but it can't get more funds until it shows greater usage.

To Stunt Growth

He said that under the present situation, the library could not anticipate more support from the city, which would continue to stunt the growth of the library. But he said that the last word on this had not been given yet.

Sager also said that the library is looking into who uses the library. He noted that 29.8 per cent of the people who use the library do not live in the city. While the library charges $2 per year for non-resident usage, this does not approach its actual cost. He noted that the library actually serves the county through its reference collection, which anyone may use.

He said that student usage is another consideration. While 34 per cent of students who use the library do not live in the city, the library receives no aid from the school district or county. It does not charge students non-resident fees. He noted that this is another situation which will have to be aired.

A general question period concluded the talk.

600 Students to Enjoy Plush Living for Month

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Lodgings — completed with swimming pools — for about 600 State University students this fall will be four local motels.

The students will enjoy the plush surroundings for at least a month, pending completion of a dormitory on the Albany branch's University campus.

University planners said Wednesday the first new dormitory off Fuller Road would be ready for occupancy when the students arrive Sept. 17.

Real Estate Firm Opens Hurley Office

Loretta Newman Inc. is opening a branch office at 1 Main Street, Hurley, on Friday.

Sales representative will be Beatrice Ten Eyck, a native of Hurley. Complete real estate listings will be available.

The real estate firm which has its main office at 644½ Broadway, Kingston, also has branch offices in Rosendale and New Paltz.

The motel rates were said to average about $2 a day for each student. The taxpayers will provide the cash, the university said.

Engineers Will Watch Two Films At Dinner Meet

Showing of two films will be featured at the regular September dinner meeting of the Ulster Chapter of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers 7 p. m. Wednesday, Sept. 16 at the Kirkland Hotel.

The films, called "The Com-

KINGSTON DAY AT EXPOSITION—New York State's representative in next month's Miss America contest, Julie Just, reminds area residents that Labor Day, Monday has been proclaimed Kingston Day at the 1964 New York State Exposition in Syracuse. Promising "the time of your life," the affair will end this Monday. All buildings and exhibits will be open 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily. Signs over the main gate and across the grounds, in addition to announcements over public address systems will welcome local residents to the Exposition on Kingston Day.

Find 2 Japanese Hiding in Guam; Fought in WW II

AGANA, Guam (AP) — At least two Japanese soldiers from World War II are still hiding out in the jungle 20 years after Guam's recapture by American forces, Guam police and U.S. military officials said today.

A construction worker reported last week that one of them held a rifle on him and pulled the trigger, but nothing happened.

Guam Police Capt. Jose C. Quintanilla said he believed the two holdouts, bearded and bedraggled, are holed up somewhere in the northeastern Guam jungle, in the same area where the Japanese imperial army made its last stand during World War II.

Equipment operator Jose George, 27, reported on Aug. 26 that he sighted the two stragglers a half-mile from the U.S. naval communication station housing.

George said he first spotted one of them squatting inside a dump. The man, George said, had long hair, a beard nearly to his waist, and was skinny and nearly naked.

George said the man ran away, limping on one foot. He said he went after the man but when he got within 15 feet he saw another Japanese who leveled a rifle at him.

George said the Japanese pulled the trigger but the weapon did not fire. The man, George said, pulled the rifle bolt, reloaded and pulled the trigger again, but again it misfired.

At that point, the worker said, he ran back to his truck and drove off to tell U.S. Marine sentries. The Marines searched the area to no avail.

Names in the News

Baker May Move To Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bobby Baker, vacationing in Southern California, says he may move to Los Angeles to practice law.

The controversial former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority declined any comment Wednesday in the latest allegation leveled against him by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del. The senator has charged that an illegal contribution to the Democratic campaign in 1960 was made by Matthew H. McCloskey Jr., the builder of a Washington, D.C., sports stadium, and that the money was funneled through Baker.

Former Muslim Told To Vacate His Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Malcolm X, the militant Negro leader who quit the Black Muslims earlier this year, was ordered by a judge Wednesday to vacate his six-room, $16,200 home in the New York City borough of Queens.

Civil Court Judge Maurice Wahl ruled that Malcolm X, whose real name is Malcolm Little — lost his right to the home when he left the Muslims to form his own cult. The judge decided the property clearly belonged to the Muslims' Temple of Islam, Inc., which had bought it for Malcolm as a residence or parsonage. Malcolm's attorney said the decision would be appealed.

Young Boy's Jacket Catches LBJ's Eye

WASHINGTON (AP) — Warren Eckstein is only 4, but he can stand up to President Johnson quite well.

Johnson noticed the little boy standing beside his father, Otto Eckstein, at a ceremony in which Eckstein was sworn in as a member of the Council of Economic Advisers Wednesday. The President admired the boy's new blue and gray striped blazer coat.

"That's a pretty fancy coat you have there," the President said. "How about lending it to me?"

Warren paused briefly, then replied: "No."

After the ceremony, Johnson paused by Warren and said: "Now you consider that, and, if you decide you'll lend me the coat, you get in touch with me."

See How It Feels?

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Michael T. Gray, state licenses director, got a traffic ticket Wednesday. Yep, you guessed it. Driving without a license. "I changed my suit and forgot to change my wallet," said the embarrassed Gray.

Dies As Dynamite Cap Explodes in Ear From Charge

RED HOOK, N. Y. (AP) — An invalid trailer park dweller died today from the explosion of a dynamite blasting cap stuck in his right ear and connected by wires to an electric heater, State Police said.

Dr. William Thompson, assistant medical examiner of Dutchess County, gave a tentative verdict of suicide.

Police said the dead man, George Best Sr., 58, had been mostly bedridden with a lung ailment for four years.

His wife said the explosion occurred at 1:30 a.m.

Woman Launches Drive to Unseat Sen. Hugh Scott

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Genevieve Blatt returns to her native Clarion County Saturday to launch her campaign to unseat U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa.

The Voters for Blatt Committee announced Wednesday that the three-time state secretary of internal affairs would be guest of honor at a homecoming celebration in the community of East Brady.

Miss Blatt was born in East Brady 50 years ago and went on to become the first woman elected to statewide office in Pennsylvania. She will begin her senatorial campaign although her apparent primary victory is being contested in the courts.

She ran an independent race against Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the State Supreme Court, who had the support of the Democratic state organization. The margin of victory was 478 votes, but Musmanno has challenged a decision not to count 6,000 contested ballots in Philadelphia.

Adjourn Hearing On Assault Case

Preliminary hearing on a charge of second degree assault pending against William B. Galm, 21, Highland, was adjourned for one week on Wednesday by Justice of the Peace Linn Baker, Town of Lloyd.

Galm, arrested last week by state troopers, is accused of hitting Steve Miklai, 31, New Paltz, with an iron rod in a scuffle in Ireland Corners. Miklai reportedly suffered a fractured nose.

Highland Candidate

Dominick Martorana, Highland, was nominated Wednesday night by the Town of Lloyd Democrats, as candidate for assessor in the November election. The office is the only local one to be voted on this year. Martorana is a brother of Joseph Martorana supervisor of the Town of Plattekill.

Desegregation Stayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Hugo L. Black of the Supreme Court denied today stays of orders for speeded up school desegregation in Mobile County, Ala., and Dougherty County, Ga.

Black made no comment in either case, merely noting on petitions submitted to him that he had denied requests for stays. The school board of Mobile County had asked a delay of an order by the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans.

Rudolph Jewelry Firm Merger Is Announced

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A merger of two of the nation's oldest jewelry store chains—Rudolph Brothers Inc. of Syracuse and Kay Jewelry Stores Inc. of Washington, D.C., was announced here today.

The chain's Kingston store, Rudolph's is at 294 Wall Street. The merged organization has a combined annual business in excess of $30 million.

Carlton Hayes, Once Ambassador To Spain, Dies

SIDNEY, N.Y. (AP)—Carlton J. H. Hayes, U.S. ambassador to Spain during World War II and former history professor at Columbia University, died today at Sidney Hospital. He was 82.

A resident of nearby Afton, Hayes spent half a century at the Morningside Heights campus in Manhattan.

He took time out from Columbia to serve as captain in the military intelligence division of the U.S. Army during World War I. From April 1942 until the end of 1945, Hayes was U.S. ambassador to Spain.

His numerous books included a study of modern nationalism and the influence of Christianity on Western civilization.

When he retired in 1950, Hayes was Seth Low professor of History at Columbia.

Three Survivors

He leaves his widow, Evelyn Carroll Hayes of Afton, a daughter, Mrs. William D. Tucker of Pelham, N.Y., and a son, Carroll J. Hayes of Long Lake, N.Y.

Grandfather's Car Kills 3-Year-Old

SPRINGVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Judy Ann Bly, 3, died today in Chaffee Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered when struck Wednesday by an automobile driven by her grandfather.

Police said the child was playing in the driveway of her home when Victor Bly Sr. apparently attempted to back his car out and struck her. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bly Jr. of East Concord, Erie County.

Renames Cornwall Man

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller Wednesday reappointed John F. Schoonmaker of Cornwall, on-the-Hudson to the Board of Parole for a term ending June 18, 1970. The salary is $20,475 a year.

Schoonmaker, 56, is a former director of probation in Orange County.

Senate confirmation of the appointment is required.

Hurricane Leaves Caribbean Area; Florida Is Clear

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Dora took a turn away from the northern Leeward Islands early today and the Weather Bureau said it no longer endangered any Caribbean land areas.

The big, blustery storm decreased its forward speed to about 15 miles per hour from an earlier 20 miles but still packed winds up to 115 miles per hour near the center.

A hurricane watch was discontinued for Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands and the northern Leeward Islands and gale warnings were discontinued in the northern Leewards.

The hurricane was moving toward the west-northwest and the Weather Bureau said "there is evidence of recurvature to a more northerly direction."

At dawn hurricane Dora was about 460 miles east-northeast of San Juan and 275 miles in the same direction from St. Maarten, Lesser Antilles.

It was almost 1,500 miles east-southeast of Miami.

Hurricane-force winds extend 80 miles north of the center and 40 miles to the south, with gales reaching out 20 miles to the north and 100 miles to the south.

"Indications are that Dora will increase slightly in size and intensity during the next 12 hours," the Weather Bureau said.

Hurricane Dora was expected to move on a course between west-northwest and northwest, which would take it away from any land areas.

"There is no longer any danger to Caribbean land areas from hurricane Dora except the heavy surf may be expected in the Leeward Islands and people near exposed beach areas should continue to exercise caution," the Weather Bureau said.

Sign Conservation Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signed today two major conservation bills, one to protect 9.2 million acres of wilderness and the other to finance the purchase of recreation land.

Johnson, signing the measures at a ceremony in the White House rose garden, called them "some of the most far-reaching conservation measures that a far-sighted nation has ever coped with."

The White House had announced in advance that Johnson would sign the wilderness bill, which sets aside for special protection large tracts of federal forest land, mostly in the western states.

Hearing on Cuba Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Committee on Un-American Activities opened new hearings on student travelers to Cuba today with decorum and immediate rule. One usually-bearded witness even showed up without his beard.

In contrast to last year's boisterous, raucous sessions, quiet order seemed the hall-mark they had set. The committee had sought to insure order with some of the strictest security arrangements ever used at the Capitol. There were more police and U.S. marshals on the scene than students and sympathizers.

Girl, 7, Hurt

Local police were notified this morning that Tina Castiglione, 7, of 102 Greenkirk Avenue, was injured when she tripped over a wire near 171 Wall Street. She suffered a chin laceration, leg and hip bruises and was treated at the Benedictine Hospital, the report said.

The Panama and Cape Cod canals were opened with a two-week period in 1914.

SGT. YORK DIES — Sgt. Alvin C. York, hero of World War I from the Tennessee hill country, died after a 10-year battle with crippling illnesses. He was 76. He is shown at left in his World War I uniform amid at right in 1957 at his home in Jamestown, Tenn. (AP Wirephoto)

President Leads Tributes to Sgt. York

the funeral service.

A choir will sing three of the York's favorite songs, "Faithful Lord Jesus," "Faith of Our Fathers," and "Onward Christian Soldiers." His strong religious convictions became part of the York legend. Once a conscientious objector, he went on to answer his country's call to World War I and killed 25 Germans and captured 132 more, virtually single-handed in the battle of Argonne Forest.

Not far down the Wolf River farm house in which York lived from the heavy surf may be expected in the Leeward Islands and people near exposed beach areas should continue to exercise caution," the Weather Bureau said.

York had been bedfast and virtually blind for 10 years, and had been in the hospital 10 times in the past two years before the final stay which began last Saturday. His family and his doctors agreed that the complications that he had battled for a decade would have killed a lesser man long ago.

Smile, Voice Missing

The curtains were drawn today on the sun porch, which had bounded York's world for the 10 years, and the big white house seemed somehow empty in the midst of the bustle of preparations for his funeral. His smile and his once booming voice were missing.

His death struck a hammer blow at Miss Gracie, his childhood sweetheart whom he married in 1919 and who was the tower of strength when he needed her most. The bedside years. It was she who greeted the steady stream of visitors who stopped at York's home, near the Kentucky line north of Jamestown, Tenn., and fronting U.S. Highway 127.

But when she returned from Nashville in the hearse which brought her famous husband's body to Jamestown Wednesday night, she embraced her youngest son, Tommy, and sobbed uncontrollably. Soon though, she had composed herself and was busy making plans for the funeral.

The sharpshooting native of Tennessee hill country was credited with single-handedly killing 25 Germans and capturing 132 others in one day's fighting in the Argonne Forest in France in 1918. He was awarded the Medal of Honor, and won lasting fame.

Third Trip

It was his third trip to the hospital this year and the last of a dozen hospitalizations in the past two years.

His final illness was described as an acute infection of the urinary tract. He had been in a coma almost since admittance.

His wife, Gracie, and his five sons and two daughters, had maintained a bedside vigil.

Hospital spokesmen said death was due to "general debility resultant of a combination of conditions incident to his age and complicating illnesses over the past 10 years."

Gift of Friends

York came to the hospital from his beloved farm home at Pall Mall, Tenn., a tiny hamlet about 140 miles northeast of Nashville in the Cumberland Mountains. The spacious home and the land were a gift of grateful Tennesseans who responded to a fund drive in 1919.

Though a frequent patient in recent years, York was impatient with hospitals and yearned to return to "Gracie's" cooking, and so informed hospital authorities in his customary good-natured way.

Survivors include the widow; two daughters, Mrs. Betsy Lowrey and Mrs. Alice Franklin, both of Pall Mall, and five sons: the Rev. Edward York of Nashville, a Church of the Nazarene minister; Alvin Jr., of Indianapolis, and Woodrow, Thomas, and Andrew of Pall Mall.

York changed from a conscientious objector into the greatest civilian soldier of World War I. He had said, "I don't want to fight," in registering for the draft. Later he was credited officially with putting a German machine-gun battalion out of action "practically unassisted."

The feat was performed in the Battle of Argonne on Oct. 8, 1918. York killed 25 German soldiers and took 132 prisoners, including the battalion commander and three other officers.

Greatest Fighter

Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the American Expeditionary Force, described York, then 31, as "the greatest civil-

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Keider entertained dinner guests Sunday.

Belgian Mechanic To Start New Life

MONTREAL, Que. (AP)—Jules Van Gool, an auto mechanic from Belgium, arrived here Wednesday to begin a new life. He brought with him his wife and 11 children, ranging in age from 3 to 23.

There was some difficulty in finding accommodations immediately, but Van Gool said he needed a new empty room so that "we can get our sleeping bags out and cook with our equipment."

The Immigration Department announced later that it had found suitable lodgings. Van Gool plans to settle in Saskatoon. The family came from Antwerp.

Dies of Shotgun Blast

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—L. S. Schiller, about 57, told a neighbor this morning he was going to shoot squirrels that had been damaging his garden.

Less than three hours later, Schiller was found dead on his back porch, wounded in the chest by a blast from his 20-gauge shotgun. Coroner John C. Sherman said his death apparently was accidental.

Schiller lived alone. He had been on sick leave from the General Electric Co. after a lung operation.

Dismiss Charge

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A second degree manslaughter charge against a 19-year-old unwed mother was dismissed by City Court today after she was ordered committed to Marcy State Hospital.

Miss Margaret McCray of Syracuse was arrested Aug. 22 after the body of her 7-month-old son, Ricky, was found in a suitcase in the basement of an abandoned house.

The coroner said the child died of asphyxiation. Police said Miss McCray told them she scalded the baby while preparing warm milk for him and tried to treat the burns with home medication. When the medication proved unsuccessful, police said, she gagged him as he lay moaning in his crib.

Baltimore Chiefs Meeting New York Police Officials

BALTIMORE (AP)—Armed with the promise of presidential support, city leaders continued preparations today to head off the possibility of riots among Baltimore's 258,000 Negroes.

High on the agenda was a City Hall meeting with police officials from New York State and the city of Rochester, N.Y.

Meanwhile, Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin and Gov. J. Millard Tawes would not expand on their Tuesday statement that a group "which openly advocated violence" was planning to foment riots here.

At the time, the two executives indicated the Negro-based riots that recently paralyzed parts of New York City, Rochester, Philadelphia and New Jersey cities were planning disorders.

Deaths

20 Groups Plan To Campaign for Mixed Schools

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty civic organizations have backed the city board of education's school integration plan and opposed a mostly-white group's plan to boycott the schools if the plan is put in effect opening day, Sept. 14.

Jewish, Catholic, Protestant, civil rights, and parent-teacher organizations joined in signing a statement backing the board Wednesday.

They said some of them might have reservations about certain aspects of the plan, but that the board should go ahead "on the broadest consensus that could be reached."

The opening day boycott is planned by Parents and Taxpayers Inc., which opposes a part of the plan involving busing children from one school to another.

NEW YORK (AP)—Labor is putting the accent on fringe benefits even more this year than last. That is evident in the auto labor talks now in the spotlight.

Wages have been scaled upward in many pacts negotiated so far in 1964. But the average increase has been down slightly from the median set in the 1963 contracts.

Labor has made the most notable gains along the fringes, especially in pension and insurance plans, and to a somewhat lesser degree in shorter work weeks and longer vacations. On average, the new contracts have kept fairly well in the guidelines on wages and costs that the administration has advanced as a block to further inflation.

As the auto labor talks near a showdown set for after Labor Day, the stock market has been betting on an agreement instead of a strike. The auto companies are planning greater output in September than usual for this month. Management also seems to be counting on a new pact by the deadline, after the customary last minute in-

Issue Is Quantity

When a settlement is reached, the big question will be: How much? And in the case of the auto union, too, the pressure has been largely on gaining ground around the fringes.

The terms that finally are reached, with or without a strike, will affect bargaining in many other industries. This could extend into next year when the steel labor contracts come up again.

In the first half of the year 1,488 settlements showed a median wage rise of 7.6 cents an hour, the Bureau of National Affairs reports. In the first six months of 1963 the average was 8 cents. The range was wide—all the way from no wage increase in 9 per cent of the pacts to more than 15 cents an hour in 8 per cent of them.

Fringes Rise

Fringe activity was brisker this year than last. Revised pension and insurance plans were included in 44 per cent of the contracts, and new plans in 21 per cent.

Fringe benefits can be just as costly to management as higher wage scales. In times of a slowdown in business activity, these benefits can be comparatively more costly.

State Chairman Sees Good Chance For Goldwater

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Republican State Chairman Fred A. Young says he believes New York Republicans have "a good, fighting chance" of gaining a victory in their state for Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee.

Young said in a statement Wednesday that "we intend to make the very most of it." Young's statement reflected a slightly brighter outlook than that he voiced at the Republican National Convention in July. At that time, as delegates cheered the nomination of Goldwater, Young predicted the Arizona senator would carry New York in the November election, then told a television reporter: "I have to say that whether I believe it or not." Wednesday, Young noted that separate meetings of GOP county chairmen and the state committee had pledged vigorous support to Goldwater.

Young predicted that President Johnson would fall far short of the 791,000 plurality that President Kennedy compiled in New York City in 1960 and that Goldwater would run well ahead of the 407,000-vote plurality that Richard M. Nixon won in Upstate that year.

Young said that he would lead a delegation of Republican leaders and candidates to Lockport on Saturday, when Rep. William E. Miller will open his campaign for the vice presidency in Miller's hometown.

To Clean Capitol

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The stone exterior of the New York State Capitol is going to be cleaned completely for the first time in 65 years.

The State Public Works Department reported Wednesday that a Philadelphia, Pa., firm, Brener Building Cleaning Co., entered the low bid of $310,000 for the job.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today is Thursday, Sept. 3, the 247th day of 1964. There are 119 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1609, Henry Hudson's 80-ton ship, the Half Moon, rounded Sandy Hook on a voyage from England which had started in April. Seeking a northwest passage to Asia, Hudson sailed up the river now bearing his name to the vicinity of what later became Troy, N.Y.

On this date: In 1894, Labor Day was observed for the first time throughout the nation as a legal holiday.

In 1939, Britain and France declared war on Germany, the start of World War II; the Nazis had invaded Poland two days before.

Ten years ago — Two U.S. Army officers were killed on Quemoy Island in an artillery exchange between the Chinese Reds on the mainland and Nationalists on Quemoy.

Five years ago — U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld emphasized in a report to the General Assembly that the U.N. held primary responsibility in any situation endangering world peace.

One year ago — Russia cast her 101st veto to block a U.N. Security Council resolution condemning the killing of two Israelis by Syrians.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN — Mrs. James Carpenter, Richmond Hill, L. I., woman who with her family occupied summer bungalows here each season, spent several days last week with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Patrick Kelly, Old State Road. She was accompanied here by her relative, Kate Loos of Inwood, L. I.

Weekend callers in the hub of the reservoir country included Lucy Pantel of South Fallsburg, Sullivan County.

Also in town was Eleanor Patterson, Ohayo Mountain Road antiques collector.

Preston and Katherine Knight spent Saturday evening with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winne, Fleischmanns.

Callers in the village last week included Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pearson of uptown Kingston who were accompanied by the following relatives from Stockholm, Sweden: Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Mo-lin and Miss Linna Molin. Brigadier Molin and his family are active in Salvation Army work in the Swedish city. The Pearsons are former residents of Olive; Oscar lived for several years in Ashokan and his wife was a member of the Olive Bridge Christina family.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdett Clarke of Broadway, Kingston were among the many callers here during the weekend.

Local News of 15 Years Ago — September, 1948: Peter Maurer upon closing his summer riding academy at the Lewis Thiel barn sold his string of 10 saddle horses to Louis Basch, Hurley, expert on equines. Robert Merriew, well known Broodhead mason, has completed an attractive fireplace at the George W. Pratt summer home above Ashokan. . . . The drought daily becomes more serious. It is last autumn all over again — wells, brooks and springs going dry and vegetation looking "real peaked." . . . Joshua Bell, one of the real Old Timers in these parts, has built a summer bungalow for his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Grant of New York. The house is near the place of Mrs. Grant's sister, Mrs. Kendall Every, in the VanSteenburgh Hill sector of Shokan.

Beatles to Aid Cerebral Palsy With Performance

The Beatles will sing for Cerebral Palsy Sunday evening, Sept. 20. England's famous Beatles, at present in the United States, will give a benefit performance at the Paramount Theatre in New York City for United Cerebral Palsy of New York City.

Tickets may be obtained by writing to Mrs. William Langley, United Cerebral Palsy of New York City, 141 East 40th Street, New York, N. Y. 10016. For further information, United Cerebral Palsy at 400 Broadway, Kingston, may be contacted.

The Ulster County Cerebral Association treats children for all types of physical handicaps including Cerebral Palsy, birth defects, muscular dystrophy, speech disorders, hearing impairment and post-polio myelitis and is a member of Ulster County Community Chest.

Halt Draft . . .

that Johnson has used the draft for social and political purposes. But Paul F. Wagner, press secretary, said Goldwater was talking about administration programs aimed at retraining of men rejected in pre-induction draft physicals.

Asks for Help

Johnson asked Congress on Aug. 14 for $16.7 million to help rehabilitate young men who are rejected by the draft on mental or physical grounds.

The president announced last April a study of the draft system, and said that inquiry would consider the possibility of ending Selective Service within a decade.

Goldwater said crime and lawlessness has mounted under the Democrats — and he linked that charge that civil rights rioting.

He said it is not the function of the federal government to enforce local laws. "But it is a responsibility of the national leadership to make sure that it, and its spokesmen and its supporters do not encourage the enforcement or incite the breaching of these laws," Goldwater said.

Goldwater said Johnson seeks "concentration of power as an announced article of political faith."

Goldwater said he would move with care in "our task of cutting the government down to size."

"Our economy needs stability and continuity in government policy," he said.

To aid the aged and the needy, he promised "a thriving and compassionate economy" with its programs handled at government levels close to the people.

Bulletin Kennedy Tells Of Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy said today he has resigned as attorney general — the first member of President Johnson's cabinet to do so.

After a meeting at the White House with Johnson, Kennedy stepped before microphones in a White House driveway and told an impromptu news conference he had resigned.

Kennedy is the Democratic candidate for the Senate in New York.

Miller Invokes Return to Virtue In Arizona Speech

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP)—Rep. William E. Miller called today "for a return to the age-old virtues of courage, integrity, forthrightness, honesty and inspired leadership" and predicted Sen. Barry Goldwater would be elected president on Nov. 3.

In remarks prepared for the formal kickoff here of Goldwater's campaign, Miller, the Republican vice presidential candidate, said:

"The people of this land have had enough of being mauled and made to yelp like helpless beagles on the White House lawn. Two months from today these same voters will have Mr. Johnson by the ears."

The reference was to the time President Johnson, playing with his beagles, held them by the ears to hear them yelp.

Echoing a theme which Goldwater has stressed, Miller said "there is fright in our neighborhoods and violence in our streets, and despair in the land over the setting of class against class and race against race."

The New York congressman called Goldwater a "giant of a man—seasoned in the nation's service, straight-talking and a man of peace who has the courage to stand eye to eye with those who would make war."

Miller flew to Arizona from Washington aboard the chartered Electra turboprop that he will use throughout the campaign. Following today's speeches here, he and Goldwater will go to Lockport, N.Y., where Miller will formally launch his campaign on Saturday.

Cars Collide on Route 32

Two cars were damaged at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday in a collision which occurred on Route 32, Town of Rosendale. Trooper John Turek of the Kingston substation said the cars were driven by John Campbell, 24, R.D. 2, Box 375, New Paltz, who was traveling north on the highway, and Dorothea Steib, of Lake Roskonda, who was making a left turn from James Street. No injuries were reported.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly early this afternoon as Wall Street showed typical pre-Labor Day caution. Trading was moderate. The top auto and steel stocks were narrowly mixed, improving a little over early prices.

Airlines were hit by some sharp profit-taking.

The trend was higher among aerospace issues, chemicals and drugs.

Selective strength among assorted blue chips helped keep the averages on an even keel.

Moves of a few points in either direction highlighted the more volatile issues.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 316.9 with industrials up .1, rails up .2 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .09 at 845.17.

Uncertainty over the auto-labor situation and politics were cited as additional reasons for caution prior to the Labor Day weekend, a traditional milestone for business and the market.

Phelps Dodge snapped back more than 2 points following Wednesday's decline. Union Carbide was another 2-point gainer. Raytheon was strong, up more than a point.

Traders sought profits in Pure Oil, down about 2.

Pan American and American Airlines led more than a point each while United and Eastern lost fractions.

Xerox rose 3 and IBM 1, U.S. Smelting skidded 3 points and Polaroid dropped 2.

Pfizer advanced more than a point. Merck and Schering were fractional gainers.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were higher.

Local Youth Cited For 2 Violations After 9W Mishap

A 20-year-old youth was injured at 4:20 p. m. Wednesday and later cited by state troopers on two motor vehicle violations, after a two-car collision on Route 9W about 1 1/2 miles north of Route 209, Town of Ulster.

Robert Scaringe, of Box 116, Kingston, was summoned by Trooper Norman Kilfoyle of the Kingston station on charges of driving a motor vehicle with unsafe tires and crossing the white traffic lane lines. The summonses are returnable before Justice of the Peace Robert Stedje at a later date.

According to troopers, Shirley Mearns, 39, of 79 Dunneman Avenue, was driving south on Route 9W and Scaringe was traveling north when he reportedly lost control and his car crossed to the southbound lane where the vehicles collided.

Scaringe was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Fatum's ambulance and treated for a fractured left thumb and lacerations of the nose, troopers said.

Troopers, Hounds Find Child Safe In Adirondacks

LONG LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—Five-year-old Peter Nagle of Rumson, N.J. was found safe today after being missing overnight in the Adirondack Mountains, with temperatures in the 30s.

State Police and their bloodhounds had led about 40 searchers through dense fog in search of the boy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nagle and their four children had gone for a hike Wednesday on 3,200-foot-high Kempsall Mountain near here. Peter was reported to have disappeared near the top at about 3 p. m. as the children ran down the slope.

State Police said he was found at 6:45 a. m. on Blueberry Mountain, approximately 1 1/2 miles from the spot where he vanished.

The parents had joined in the search.

They arrived here two days ago for a vacation (at the Long Lake Motel).

Sheriff Arthur Parker said Peter was calling for help when found.

Bears are plentiful in the area, and there was no established trail between the two mountains, Parker added.

Long Lake firemen also joined in the search.

Bill Signed for Bases At Newburgh, W. Point

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a bill appropriating $1,570,968,000 for construction at military bases at home and abroad during the fiscal year which began July 1.

The total is $308,032,000 less than the Johnson administration requested earlier this year.

New York projects included in the bill and the amounts:

Army — West Point $19,778,000; Pictorial Center $548,000; Fort Hamilton $118,000; Watervliet Arsenal $77,000.

Navy — Special Devices Center at Mitchell Field $550,000.

Air Force — Plattsburgh Air Force Base $297,000; Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, $40,000.

William Shaw, also of Melbourne, Fla. was with Hefflinger, its owner, on the cruiser. It was indicated that they apparently had not realized that the boat had been seriously damaged when it hit the submerged object while they were sailing earlier in the creek.

Lackey, who faces trial later, was quoted as saying he "had no idea they would really shoot the Negro and was very surprised when two shots were fired."

Clete Johnson, the state prosecutor, was asked later by a reporter if the statement would serve to reduce the charge of murder against Lackey. He said, "No, he's subject to the same penalty as the others."

In a surprise move, state attorneys dropped charges against the fourth defendant — Herbert Guest — and called him to the stand as a prosecution witness.

Guest insisted he could not remember giving a statement to the FBI about the slaying.

Guest still faces a federal conspiracy charge under the civil rights law.

Bill to . . .

strongly supported the Gore-Anderson proposal, said in a statement the vote was "a victory not only for older Americans but for all Americans."

But Goldwater said the action "reveals a contempt for the intelligence and judgment of our people" and implies they "are incapable of deciding how to spend their money." He called it an additional tax burden on wage earners.

The health care amendment was added to a House-passed Social Security bill. It seemed to face highly dubious prospects when the measure goes to a Senate-House conference to reconcile the differences.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who long has opposed putting health benefits into Social Security, will head the House conferees.

The Republicans voting for the bill were Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating of New York; Clifford P. Case of New Jersey; Thomas H. Kuchel of California; and Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

Javits said in a statement that Johnson has the responsibility of getting the bill approved in the House.

"It is now up to the President to prove that he actually wants a medical care for the aging law—not just a campaign talking point—by making the major effort needed to get this bill . . . also approved by the House, which has party controls by such a wide margin," Javits declared.

Motion Heard

time he was given aspirin when he complained of a headache and Detective Burger said Black said he could stand a "shot," of liquor.

Burger said Black displayed no indication of mental illness and was responsive to questions as to the happening. He was nervous "like any person involved in a crime," Burger said but he said Black was not "trembling" or displaying any unusual emotion.

Gave Testimony

Dr. Cohn, who resides in Poughkeepsie and has offices in Kingston, was sworn and testified to having examined Black on June 29, 1959, and again on July 3 and 6 of 1959. He referred to his report made at that time and said Black had impressed him as a "pathological liar," one whose statements are "unworthy of belief."

Dr. Cohn said he gave no credence to Black's statements when he examined him in 1959. He said he found deterioration "accentuated by alcohol" and did not believe many of the statements which Black made.

At this point in the examination, a recess was taken and the matter adjourned to 10 o'clock today in order to permit Judge Tucker to keep an appointment.

Fire Chief James M. Brett, and Capt. Edwin P. Murphy responded to the call with the Central and Union units. Police headquarters was also notified, and Sgt. William Hanley, with Officers Kenneth Radel, Oscar Gray, and Special Officer Joseph Kaspschak, went to the dock.

William Shaw, also of Melbourne, Fla. was with Hefflinger, its owner, on the cruiser. It was indicated that they apparently had not realized that the boat had been seriously damaged when it hit the submerged object while they were sailing earlier in the creek.

Navigators Are Alerted on River Dredging Project

Hudson River navigators were cautioned this week to slow down and proceed with care in the vicinity of dredging operations from a point south of Van Wines Point and below Parda Hook, and from a point above Four Mile Point past the City of Hudson, the Village of Catskill and beyond MHR Light No. 52.

In the northern section dredging operations will be in progress by use of dipper dredge and attendant plant consisting of tugs, scows and launches during a period from Sept. 10 through Dec. 1. Work in progress consists of channel widening and deepening under the new 32 foot project for the Hudson River.

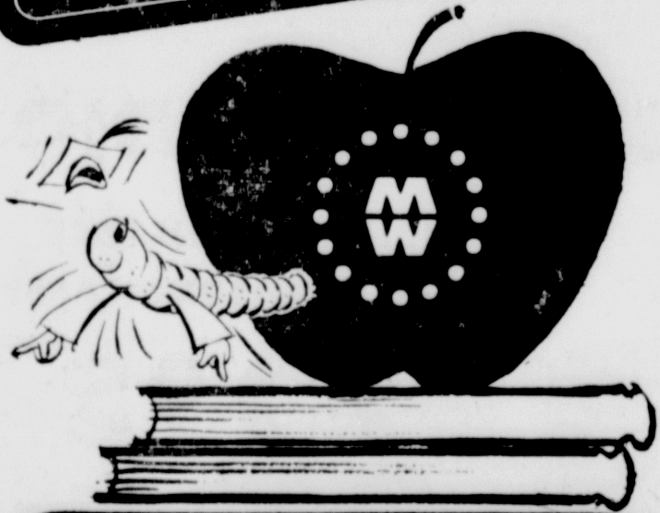

Deep draft vessels should pass to the east of the contractor's plant, an announcement by the Corps of Engineers advised today.

In the Hudson, Athens, Catskill area, navigators were advised the operation called for the use of hydraulic dredge using floating pipeline, submerged pipeline and attendant plant during the same period.

A Study in Political Contrasts

LBJ, Barry Rose to Power In Entirely Different Ways

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The top candidates in the 1964 political campaign which gets rolling by next week are in some ways a study in extreme contrasts.

The two top Democratic candidates — President Johnson and his vice presidential running-mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota — both panted for the presidency.

Both tried for it in 1960 but were squeezed out by John F. Kennedy.

The two top Republican candidates — Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, trying for the presidency, and his vice presidential partner, Rep. William E. Miller of New York — talked of no ambition for the top jobs at all.

Until January 1964, Goldwater insisted he was not seeking the presidency and only wanted re-election to the Senate.

Miller, in Congress since 1951, had announced some time before the Republicans in July tapped him for the No. 2 place on their ticket that he was not even going to run for re-election to the House this year.

There is another deep difference between the two pairs, a difference something like that between storekeepers and traveling salesmen.

Helped Fellows

In 1959, Goldwater, who had then been in the Senate six years, was chosen to be chairman of the Republicans' Senatorial Campaign Committee whose job was to help Republicans stay in the Senate or get elected to it.

This kept Goldwater on the road continuously, dashing around the country making speeches and conferring with Republican politicians, from 1959 until he went after the Republican presidential nomination this year.

He made perhaps an average of 400 speeches a year. This kept him away from his job in the Senate quite a lot.

Another Traveler

Miller was elected chairman of the Republican National Committee in 1961. This took a lot of his time in traveling and conferring, which meant time that might otherwise have been devoted fully to a congressman's chores.

But the traveling, speech-making, meeting Republicans around the country and conferring with the Republican leaders were a big help to Goldwater and Miller when the convention delegates picked their candidates.

Humphrey was elected by Senate Democrats as their assistant leader in 1961. At that time he was staying close to the Senate and its work, with all the detail and maneuvering that means.

Small Scale

Humphrey made some speeches around the country but nothing on the Goldwater scale and his job as assistant leader tied him down so much he had to make some speeches on tape recorders or by telephone hooked to loudspeakers.

From the time he became vice president in 1961, until he moved into the presidency last November Johnson was a good-will ambassador for President John F. Kennedy. This required traveling and speechmaking.

And he has managed to get in some speeches since becoming President.

From 1953 until 1960 — first as leader of Senate Democrats when they were in a minority, then as their majority leader for six years — Johnson had his hands full running the Senate.

This kept him home.

Yet these two pairs of men, in directly opposite ways, built up their political power and their standing in the country so thoroughly that they got their parties' nominations.

Burglars Tap Yallum's Again; Other Thefts

A burglary at the M. Yallum Sons Inc. store, Broadway and East Strand, with a tentatively estimated loss of some $500 in clothing and shoes, reported Wednesday, continued under police investigation today, along with one at the A. Bahl Sons building, 10 Catherine Street, and theft of tires and rims from the rear of the Jerry Martin Pontiac Garage, 708 Broadway, both reported this morning.

Entrance to Yallum's store was gained through the same door on the East Strand side of the building, used in a burglary last Feb. 10, when the loss was reported at $1,000 in clothing and shoes. The door glass was broken each time.

Teenagers Charged

A group of teenagers and juveniles was apprehended and charged with the February burglary at Yallum's shortly after it was reported.

Taken in the recent burglary, police said, were men's clothing, including trousers, sports jackets, socks and shoes.

A door glass was broken recently on the Broadway side of the store when a stone was thrown against it. Frank Riddle, 62, who told police he has no home, was charged with throwing the stone, pleaded guilty in city court, and is now serving a jail sentence.

Other Thefts

Police were notified this morning that some 50 pounds of copper wiring, and two old car batteries were stolen from the building of A. Bahl Sons, dealers in waste materials, at 10 Catherine Street. Entrance was gained through a window on an overhead door, which had been broken.

Five tires and rims were reported taken from used cars in the lot at the rear of Jerry Martin Pontiac Inc., on upper Broadway.

Cannibalism

Until recently, cannibalism (still practiced in the New Guinea interior) prevailed in parts of western and central Africa, Melanesia, Australia and New Zealand.

Australia Would Go to War To Check Sukarno's Advances

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent

The Indonesian-Malaysian situation poses the risk of a disaster that could make the struggle in South Viet Nam seem puny by comparison.

While Indonesian President Sukarno cancels military leaves and talks ominously of an enemy threatening the safety of his nation, the government of Malaysia reports a small airborne Indonesian attack on its mainland.

This could be just one of many feints the Indonesians have been making to show the world they mean to "crush Malaysia." But if one of these feints should go too far — if an attack should look like the real thing — Asia and the world likely would be in for a powerful jolt.

People conversant with the situation say Australia will not tolerate invasion of Malaysia in force.

Would Wage War

Those who have discussed the matter with high-ranking Australians see them determined, if necessary, to carry war to the heart of Indonesia with all the power Australia has at its command.

Australia would expect the support of British power which is pledged to the protection of Malaysia, and indeed also would expect U.S. support. All this could present another glimpse over the abyss of World War III.

Australia appears to have been unhappy for a long time with U.S. policy regarding Indonesia, which Australians see as a clear threat to themselves. Indonesia became Australia's next-door neighbor when it took over Dutch New Guinea, which Indonesians call West Irian.

Craves Expansion

Australians suspect there is no bottom to the appetite of the Sukarno regime and that it needs dangerous adventuring to take its people's minds off the bleak facts of food shortages, fiscal nightmares and economic troubles. Australians see little point to Western aid for a nation whose postures and actions taunt the West.

Since 1950, the United States has supplied $700 million in aid to Indonesia, including military hardware. The Soviet Union provided arms aid, too, and recently agreed to step it up.

As Indonesia grew more hostile to Malaysia, American aid dwindled. No more military equipment was sent. Last month, the Senate voted to ban all further aid.

Sergeant Named AF Recruiter in Kingston Area

Assuming new duties as Air Force Recruiter for the Kingston-Ulster County area is Staff Sgt. Robert A. Milling, replacing Lt. Col. Theodore Jablonski, who has been assigned Commander of the Schenectady Recruiting Detachment.

Sgt. Milling entered the Air Force in May, 1957 and was sent to engine mechanics school at Chanute Air Force Base in Illinois. He was subsequently assigned to the Plattsburgh, N. Y. Strategic Air Command Base where he worked on the Flight Line Maintenance section.

He was later transferred to Chelveston Air Base in Great Britain, returning in two years to Saratoga Air Force Station in Saratoga Springs, N. Y. He served in a four-month project in Turkey until May, 1963.

The new recruiter attended Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. recruiters school prior to his appointment as the area recruiting officer. He has moved to High Falls Park with his wife and two children.

Sgt. Milling is available for public speaking engagements and has a supply of films for use by civic organizations. Local units of the Civil Air Patrol will be collecting canned foods and other goods in a project initiated by Sgt. Milling to provide underprivileged families in the area with Thanksgiving dinner.

Lutheran Church Sets Communion, Lists Activities

Activities at Atonement Lutheran Church, Market Street, Saugerties were announced this week by the Rev. Walter Cowen, pastor.

Sunday at 9 a. m. the order for public confession and Holy Communion. This will be the last service at 9 a. m. Beginning Sunday, Sept. 13, the fall and winter schedule of services will begin with services at 8 and 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 9:15 a. m. Sunday school will be 15 minutes earlier as previously and run for one hour and 15 minutes to afford more teaching time.

September 13 will mark the beginning of Sunday school sessions. The new Lutheran Parish School curriculum will be introduced. This is a closely graded system with each class having different lessons provided.

The Church Council will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday, Sept. 8th, at 7 p. m. Up for special consideration will be the plans of the Stewardship Committee for the fall, report of the Youth Committee on the re-organization of the Youth Work, and the Property Committee on the extensive redecorating work being done in the parish house and the redecoration of the parsonage interior.

Thursday, Sept. 10 at 8 p. m. the Lutheran Church Women of Atonement will hold the first fall meeting. Mrs. William Goetz of Mt. Marion will preside at the business meeting. Mrs. Robert Murphy of Poughkeepsie, will be the district representative to present "Program Planning," a project of the Lutheran Church in America being presented to the some 5000 congregations of the LCA.

Sunday, Sept. 13 at 3 p. m. Hudson District Stewardship Committee, the Rev. Donald Walker, pastor of Third Lutheran Church, Rhinebeck chairman, will hold a meeting for pastors, congregational stewardship chairmen and council members. They will discuss the three year plan for the promotion of Christian Stewardship in the congregations of the district. Stewardship objectives include more than method of raising money for the support of the local and world wide objectives of the Lutheran Church, and envision total dedication of individuals, time, talents, and means to the glory of God in Christ and the service of humanity.

WSCS Meeting
The first meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Saugerties Methodist Church will be held at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday evening, in the church chapel. All women are welcome. Mrs. John Thompson is the chairman of the hostess committee.

Open Goldwater Miller Campaign Offices Here

Announcement has been made by Ulster County for Goldwater-Miller Committee that a Saugerties area headquarters will open shortly at 213 Main Street. The committee has named Mrs. William J. Everts of High Woods, as chairman of the local headquarters.

The sole purpose of this committee is to promote the election of Senator Barry Goldwater and his running mate, Congressman William E. Miller. All Goldwater-Miller supporters, regardless of political affiliations or leanings are urged to join in working for a victory in this election. The initial effort will be toward voter registration. This will be followed by an all-out drive. Speakers will be available.

Volunteer workers should contact by phone. When interviewed, Mrs. Everts stated, "This year, when the voters of our nation are being offered a choice, not an echo, as Senator Goldwater has said, each Goldwater-Miller supporter has a wonderful opportunity to be an important part of this exciting 1964 presidential campaign, so important to the future of our country."

"Our volunteers will have a stimulating variety of activities in which to participate and when Election Day arrives, they will have had the satisfaction of knowing that they didn't just stand by on the sidelines during this history-making campaign."

Little Gardens Group to Meet

Saugerties Society of Little Gardens will start its fall season with an open meeting at the Dutch Arms Chapel, John Street, Wednesday, Sept. 9.

The program is a movie entitled, "Adventure With Flowers." This is a color film story, illustrating exciting ideas on flower arrangements and how to make the most unusual items into flower containers.

Members may bring a guest.

About Town Folks

The Rev. and Mrs. Paul Alberti and four of their five children will be overnight guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Cowen of Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties. The Albertis have just returned after a four year assignment as missionaries to Malaya. They were stationed at Kuala Lumpur, the nation's capital. In 1963 the Rev. Mr. Alberti was elected head of the Lutheran Church of Malaya. They are on a year's leave of absence.

Miss Lynda Wolsen of High Woods left this week for Hilton, a suburb of Rochester, where she will accept a teaching assignment in the school system of that village. She was graduated this spring from Hartwick Lutheran College, Oneonta. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wolsen of High Woods. Her mother is a teacher at the Main Street School and her sister, Kristine is a student at Oneonta State Teachers College.

George Kerbert Jr., of Elm Street, returned to his home from Albany Medical Center Hospital.

Columbia County Fair Will Open At Chatham Friday

CHATHAM—Preparations are complete for the opening tomorrow of the 124th Columbia County Fair at Chatham, scheduled to run through Labor Day.

The Fair at Chatham is the oldest county fair in New York State, having operated without interruption for nearly a century and a quarter. "Perhaps the most popular feature of our Fair," said its president, Phillip D. Mickle, "is our free grandstand. At Chatham you pay once, at the main gate, and that's it, regardless of special entertainment features at the grandstand."

"This year," Mickle pointed out, "on Sunday Larry Hooper, deep-voiced vocalist of the Lawrence Welk TV Show, will be in for two performances, afternoon and night. Labor Day we have engaged Jo Ann Castle, also of the Welk Show, famous for her honky tonk piano."

On Labor Day the 28th annual Scholastic Queen Coronation will highlight the entertainment program. In the afternoon there will be seven dashes of harness racing, expected to attract some 35 trotters and pacers who will race for more than $3,000 in total purses. Because of the nature of the racing card it is probable that racing will commence at 12:30 o'clock.

Jekyll-Hyde Robber

CHICAGO (AP) — "It was just like he changed from Dr. Jekyll to Mr. Hyde," said bakery truck driver Clarence Olson.

Olson, 58, was unloading his truck in a South Side alley when a man asked if he could help. The stranger helped unload 30 cases of crackers.

Then he stuck a revolver in Olson's side, made him give up $150 in receipts, and fled.

$147,140 Low Bid For Highland Project

A low bid of $147,140 was submitted by Parke-Seidman Inc., Floral Park, L. I., this week for reconstruction of a sewage treatment plant and appurtenant work at Highland State Training School for Boys. Two bids were submitted.

Low bids totaling $1,369,662 on eight projects for construction, repairs and alterations to state-owned facilities were opened in Albany Wednesday by the State Department of Public Works.

A total of 44 bids were received on the projects for letting.

Callanan Road Improvement Co., South Berne, submitted a low bid of $32,755.50 for construction of an additional parking lot and appurtenant work at the Public Security Building at the State Office Building Campus. Two bids were received.

CORE Is Against Police Carrying Pistols Off Duty

NEW YORK (AP) — The Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and its national director, James Farmer, have criticized New York police regulations that require off-duty policemen to carry service revolvers.

The criticism was contained in a report issued Wednesday by CORE in which it insisted again that police Lt. Thomas Gilligan needlessly shot to death a 15-year-old boy, James Powell.

Gilligan, who is white, was cleared Tuesday by a 23-member Manhattan grand jury of criminal liability in the July 16 fatal shooting during a street disturbance.

The killing ostensibly triggered week-long riots in Harlem and Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section, both Negro areas, during mid-July.

"If this killing was not a crime," the CORE report asserted, "then the law and police department policy are at fault."

Farmer said at a news conference: "We would rather see one felon escape than have an innocent youth killed."

Farmer offered a five-point program to "prevent further tragedies of this nature and to restore confidence in the police force." These were the points he stressed:

— Establishment of a civilian review board to investigate charges of "police brutality."

— Screening of new policemen "to weed out the emotionally disturbed." Farmer said he was not contending that Gilligan, who still faces a departmental disciplinary investigation, was emotionally disturbed.

— A review of regulations that require off-duty policemen to be armed. Farmer said policemen are human beings, and in their time off are "entitled to (drink) beers."

— Better training in human relations for all policemen.

— And increased recruitment of police personnel from minority groups.

— And increased recruitment of police personnel from minority groups.

Three persons were injured, one critically as the result of a truck-car collision which occurred at 12:10 p. m. Wednesday on Route 23 at the intersection of Route 32, Town of Cairo.

Leeds State Police said a dump truck operated by Henry Hines Jr., 43, of 116 Warren Street, Hudson, and a car driven by Gustave Siedel, 69, of 774 Maywood, N. J., were involved in the crash.

Joseph Humbull, 77, of 88 Grand Avenue, Maywood, a passenger in the sedan, suffered a fractured skull, internal injuries and a fractured left arm. His condition was described as critical at Green County Memorial Hospital.

Troopers A. J. Peterson and C. L. Gross investigated the crash and summoned Siedel on a charge of failure to yield the right of way. Siedel was treated at the hospital in Catskill for abrasions of the chin and left elbow. Hines sustained lacerations of the left arm, troopers said. He also was treated at the hospital.

Hines, authorities said, was driving west on Route 23 and Siedel was going south on Route 32 at the time of the crash. Siedel failed to stop at the stop sign, it was reported by troopers.

Driver Is Cited After Car Hits Rock

After his car went out of control and hit a rock ledge off Route 44-55 between the Mid-Hudson Bridge and Highland Traffic Circle at 12:35 a. m. today, J. N. Valentine Jr., 18, of 42 Dalfonso Road, Newburgh, was cited by state troopers.

Sergeant E. E. Winkley said the youth's car failed to negotiate a curve and hit the rocks. Valentine escaped injury but was summoned by Trooper Harry Foster on a charge of failing to keep to the right.

Killed in Car Crash

PETERSBURG, N. Y. (AP)—Vincent Moon, 21, of Petersburg, was killed when the automobile in which he was riding went off Route 22 and crashed in this community, about 20 miles northeast of Troy, State Police reported.

Lassie Is Given Another New Set Of Show Parents

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Next Sunday is departure day for "Lassie," CBS' top dog, returning for its 11th television season, will be left behind with a new owner, when his long-time family moves to Australia.

Lassie, if not the viewers, ought to be accustomed to family changes. Her (or, more accurately, his) new owner will be a forest ranger and become Lassie's second and one-half family.

At the beginning of the TV series, Lassie was owned by a family of three, including a boy, Tommy. Tommy, however, began to get pretty big for the part, so Jon Provost was introduced as an orphan, adopted by the family, and later Tommy quietly disappeared.

Then, one season, Lassie turned up with a set of brand new parents for Jon. They disappeared after six months and Jon suddenly was the child of June Lockhart and Hugh Reilly.

Scope Needed
Bonita Granville Wreather, the former film star who is associate producer of the series and whose husband owns the show, said the decision for another radical change was made last year "to give us more scope." The shift of custody will take place during three episodes made last spring to kick off the new season.

"We have a theory that there is just one star on the show — the dog," she said. "And there were only a certain number of things you could do logically with the boy, his parents and the farm. No matter what you did, you still had to go back to the three people and the farm."

She admitted young viewers might shed a few sad tears at the separation of dog and young master.

No Disaster
"Sure, they may weep a little, but I don't think it will tear them apart," she said.

The big change of format, she emphasized, was not undertaken because young Provost was outgrowing his role or because there was any dissatisfaction with other players or the show.

The dog star, after about 20 years in movies and television, is an institution. The Wreathers make no secret of the fact that "Lassie" is the second to bear the name and always has been a male collie.

"His trainer, Rudd Weatherwax, finds the males . . . ss nervous, stronger with more beautiful coats — and much easier to train," she said.

Chopped Down Fire

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Volunteers, neighbors and firemen responded when the top of an old locust tree caught fire and it appeared the blaze would threaten the Minerva Christian Church.

The ladders were too short to reach the top.

The tree was chopped down and the fire doused quickly.

Happy Faces More Cross Questioning In Custody Case

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller faced more cross-examination today in her suit to regain custody of the four children she gave up when she obtained a divorce to marry New York's governor.

She testified for 3½ hours Wednesday under questioning by one of her own lawyers and was cross-examined for an hour by one of the lawyers for her former husband, Dr. James S. Murphy.

State Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Gagliardi has barred the public and press from the hearings which he estimated would take two or three days. The private hearings were ordered "upon the consent of all parties and in the interest of the children."

After Wednesday's session, neither the principals nor the four lawyers for Mrs. Rockefeller and the three for Murphy gave newsmen any inkling about the testimony.

Among those in the court room were Murphy, an associate professor of virology at the Rockefeller Institute in New York City, and his second wife, the former Victoria Thompson, whom he married last June 10.

The governor was believed to have stayed at his estate at Pocantico Hills, a few miles from the court house. No reason for his absence from the hearing was made public.

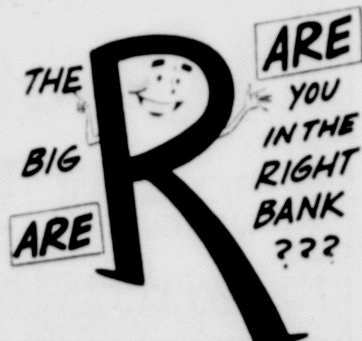

Mrs. Rockefeller obtained a divorce from Murphy in Idaho April 1, 1963, married the governor a month later and gave birth to a son, Nelson A. Jr., last May 30.

The youngest child of Mrs. Rockefeller's marriage to Murphy — 4-year-old Malinda — is reported to be staying with the Rockefellers at Pocantico Hills.

The other children — Carol, 8; Margaretta, 11, who is named after her mother; and James, 13, are with the Murphys, who have a home in the same area.

Wigs

Some women dyed their hair as early as 400 B.C. False hair also was known but, unlike the Egyptian wig, was made to look as natural as possible, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Woodstock's School Tax Rate Is Up $20.30 Over Last Year
The basic school tax rate for the Town of Woodstock has increased $20.297 per $1,000 of assessed valuation from $107.503 in 1963-64 to $127.80 for the 1964-65 year, the Ontario Central Schools District has announced. Increase in the Woodstock township is the highest for the six townships making up the Ontario district. Changes in township equalization rates for school tax purposes released by the New York State Board of Equalization have resulted in adjustments in the school tax rates for each township. Superintendent of Schools George R. Sullivan said. Equalization rates in Woodstock, Lexington and Hurley were reduced by one point. Marbletown's was reduced by two points, thus increasing the share of the total tax load on these townships and decreasing the share of the total tax load on Olive and Shandaken, where the rates were unchanged. Following is a summary of the new rates showing increases in equalization and tax rates for each township: Woodstock (13-12), $107.503-$127.800, increase of $20.297 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. Lexington (57-56), $24.520-$27.183, increase of $2.663 per $1,000. Shandaken — (30-30), $46.586-$51.102, increase of $4.516. Olive — (13-13), $107.483-$117.949, increase of $10.466. Hurley — (24-23), $58.230-$66.675, increase of $8.445. Marbletown — (27-25), $51.238-$62.204, increase of $10.966. The state equalization rates are determined each year by comparing each township's assessments with the real market value of the property in those townships. This an equalization rate of 13 indicates that a township is assessing property in general at the rate of 13 per cent of its real market value.

Famous Artists Paintings Part Of Annual Ball
Probably no three names are more star-studded in the galaxy of Woodstock's art heavens than those of Fletcher Martin, Sidney Laufman and Eugene Ludins. All internationally famous, all consistent prize winners, all exhibitors in major museums and galleries, they need no introduction to collectors anywhere. This trio of artists will form one of the major attractions at the Left Bank Dis-cotique, the big costume ball being sponsored by the Woodstock Artists Association at the Art Students League grounds this Saturday evening, Sept. 5. Some lucky ball-goer and/or ticket purchaser will earn the right to choose an original painting by one of these recognized "greats" if he is adjudged the winner in the "Choice By Chance" event at the costume dance. Tickets on Sale Tickets are on sale now for the drawing, which will be one of the top events of the ball, and can be purchased this week at tables near the News Shop or the Woodstock Artists Association Gallery. In addition, the painting tickets will be available at the ball itself prior to the actual time of the drawing and award ceremonies. The three paintings being offered in the event are on exhibition now inside the gallery and prospective ticket purchasers will have a chance to see what they may be hanging on their living room walls if Lady Luck is on their side Saturday night. There will be only one grand winner in the "Choice By Chance" event and, if his name is drawn, he will have his personal choice of either the Martin, Laufman or Ludins work. "Choice By Chance" is the chance of a lifetime for the collector or the layman, and the winner will find himself possessed of a painting bonanza worth far more than the small donation charge involved. Do yourself a favor and bid a worthy cause at one and the same time. Stop off at one of the two locations mentioned above this week and get your ticket from Janann Moncreur or one of her committeeewomen on duty.

All Classrooms Will Be Ready At New Schools

All classrooms in the new elementary projects in the Ontario Central district will be available for use by the children when school opens on Sept. 9. School architect Howard Warren, however, notified the Board of Education that it will be necessary to continue on some finishing-up work and it will be approximately three weeks before full use of the kitchens are available. The utilities companies are working on the sites which should expedite the electrical work. The blacktop may not be fully completed on all sites but roadways will be made available. The architect has been holding weekly Thursday meetings with the contractors.

The board again listened to a committee of parents from the Wittenberg area, who are protesting their children to the Phoenixia school and reviewed items as outlined in a petition submitted by the parents. No action was taken.

Following a review of the payment of services to registrars and inspectors of election at school district elections, action was tabled by the board and Watson Goodrich was directed to investigate the possibility of standardizing procedures in the four townships concerning the use of voting machines and payment for services involved.

The board appointed a new faculty member, Janice Humphrey, secondary, at a starting salary of $5,300.

The following men were appointed to the custodial staff. Aldo Valentini, driver-maintenance man, $4,000; Hubert Every, senior custodian, West Hurley, $3,800; Rudolph Rossman, driver-maintenance man, $4,200; Theodore Rose, senior custodian, Woodstock, $4,000; Watson Van Keuren, night custodian, West Hurley, $3,400; Donald Baringer, driver-custodian, $3,650.

Acknowledge Letters
The board acknowledged receipt of a letter from Mrs. Margaret Ruff protesting the manner in which she was notified of the $750 maximum increase limitation on teacher's salaries.

The board also received correspondence from the Ontario Teachers Association concerning the notification of the limitation on teachers' salaries. Henry Berleth, faculty member, stated the Association was particularly interested in continuing good communication between the board and the OTA.

Also placed on file was a letter of appreciation to Trustee Richard O. Langham from the Woodstock Jaycees for his informative presentation of current problems facing the Ontario district and a letter of condolence forwarded the Haggerty family on the recent death of John S. Haggerty, a former board member.

Reformed Church News and Notes

The Rev. Donald Edgar Hicks, minister, will preach on the sermon theme "The Fat Soul" at 11 a. m. Divine Worship Sunday at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church on the Village Green. Mrs. Caril Harrington will preside at the carillon and organ. A nursery is provided for the care of small children during worship. Senior Christian Endeavor meets at 7:30 p. m.

The choir will meet for its first fall rehearsal under the leadership of Mrs. Richard Braen at 8 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 10.

Sunday School will open with a Rally Day program with a special general worship, pin awards, promotions and the assignment of new classes on the Sunday after Labor Day, Sept. 13. Junior CE for grades 4, 5, 6 will also resume meetings that same Sunday from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m.

Lawn Fair
The young people of the Senior Christian Endeavor will stage a Lawn Fair on the Village Green Saturday, Sept. 5, for the benefit of the CE fund to send a delegate to the International C.E. convention in Dallas, Texas next summer.

Wolman Recital Pleases Critic

A small but appreciative audience braved the elements to attend the piano recital by Joseph Wolman at the Maverick concert hall. Their dogged musical enthusiasm was well rewarded.

Pianistically and artistically, Joseph Wolman seemed in better form than ever before. His playing has reached the high point of intimate refinement. His clear and transparent finger technique sparkles without ever becoming a purpose in itself.

True, since his program was predominantly romantic, one could have wished for more emotional projection, more intense melody playing and more inner excitement here and there. But an artist has to be taken the way he is. Wolman's personality is turned inward, his emotions are restrained, ego-interference is at a minimum. He never overplays, yet, on its own level his playing is sensitive and delicate, free of unnatural dynamic outbursts, always concerned with the spirit of the music rather than the effect that he, as a player, might make on the public.

This sort of detachment is, of course, more classic than romantic. The high points of the concert, therefore, seemed to be the playing of Beethoven's C major Rondo and the two Bach encores. Still, the rest of the program was on a high level of artistic interpretation, style-empathy and technical perfection. It consisted of the seldom heard f-sharp minor Fantasy by Mendelssohn, two Intermezzi and the g-minor Rhapsody by Brahms, the b-minor Scherzo, the e-minor Nocturne and the f-minor Ballade of Chopin and "Gardens in the Rain" by Debussy. This last piece, so often rendered in bravura-style, was particularly beautiful in the "refinement" of its contours and its delicate nuances. The patter of the rain on the roof of the hall furnished some unwanted, yet curiously pleasing sound-effects.

All in all, Joseph Wolman's concert was a refreshing musical experience, satisfying and exalting, as it did, the Apollonian rather than the Dionysian spirit in music. C. H.

Christmas Bazaar Date Set

Mrs. John Gill and her committee of members from the Guild for Christian Service of the Hurley Reformed Church have set the date for the annual Christmas Bazaar. It will be held on Saturday, Dec. 5, 1964 in the Education Building. The bazaar doors will open at 10:30 a. m. and close at 5 p. m.

Mrs. Gill has named Mrs. Clifford A. Henze chairman, Mrs. Allan Dumas, co-chairman, and Mrs. Frank Race, publicity. This affair is supported by all the groups of the church and always appeals to the tastes and needs of all ages.

Cook-Outs Top Fare On Labor Day Bill; Eastern Prices Low

The nation's groceries are featuring cook-out and sandwich fare for Labor Day outings this weekend.

For the grill, offerings include ground beef, broiler-fryers and spare ribs.

For sandwiches, special attractions include hams, smoked butts, bacon and cold cuts.

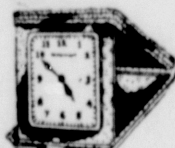

Hams are selling at 35 cents a pound for shank ends in the Northeastern outlets of one chain.

West Coast prices for both beef and pork are up strongly at wholesale while East Coast prices tend to be lower than a week ago for most categories.

Among fresh vegetables, main attractions include cabbage, carrots, celery, eggplant, lettuce, onions, potatoes, tomatoes, fresh sweet corn and squash.

Best fruit offerings include apples, cantaloupes, grapes, peaches and pears, plums, prunes and honeydew melons.

A PREMATURE ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Q: My mother and father will be married 50 years this coming January and we, their children, would like to give a reception for them. However, the winters in this part of the country are very severe with a good deal of snow, making travel very difficult. Because of this we thought of having the reception the end of October or the beginning of November, at the latest. Would this be possible, or is it too premature?

A: Since it will not be possible to have the party on their anniversary, it would be better, in my opinion, to wait until the spring when the weather clears and give a belated anniversary party rather than give it so far ahead of time. Many people are superstitious about celebrating an event before it actually occurs.

Placing Napkin on Table

Q: I help to set tables in our church auditorium for luncheons and suppers. I always put the napkin under the fork on the left side of the plate. But I have been told that the napkin belongs on the right side of the plate under the knife. Will you please tell me which is correct?

A: Correctly, the napkin is put on the plate unless there is food on it when the guests are seated. In this case, the napkin is placed to the left of the fork — not under it.

Breakfasting in One's Room

Q: When staying in a hotel and one has breakfast sent up to one's room, what is the proper amount to tip the room waiter?

A: Fifteen per cent of the check but never less than a quarter even if he brings only a cup of coffee and a roll.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES E. UTLEY (Lakeside photo)

Karen Lee Davis, Charles Ernest Utley Are Married; Residence in Fishkill

Miss Karen Lee Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Davis, of 36 Coffee Place, this city, took her marriage vows with Charles Ernest Utley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Utley, of 92 Hurley Avenue, this city, on August 22 at 2 p. m. in the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Pershing C. Hunter of St. James Methodist Church. June Munson was the organist.

Mr. Davis gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a white gown of nylon mist posed over bridal taffeta with scalloped neckline, fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a full embroidered skirt. Her veil of illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Patricia Smith of 149 Hurley Avenue, this city, was the maid of honor. She wore a deep blue satin ballerina length gown with an overskirt of chiffon. A matching crown held a shoulder length veil and she carried a nosegay of yellow carnations.

Linda Davis, the bride's sister, served as a bridesmaid. She wore a pink gown of satin in ballerina length with an overskirt of chiffon and matching crown with shoulder length veil. Her nosegay consisted of blue carnations.

James Leahy of Howland Avenue, this city, was best man, and Peter Leahy of Howland Avenue, this city, and Dennis Rowe of Allaben, were ushers.

A reception was given in Ang-El's Restaurant for 100 guests. Afterwards the couple left for Lake George. The bride wore a blue chiffon and taffeta outfit with matching jacket and a corsage of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Utley are graduates of Kingston High School. Mr. Utley attended Dutchess County Community College and is now employed by Bradlee's of Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Utley will reside in Fishkill, N. Y.

September Marks Anniversary of World War II

Visiting Professor of Philosophy Examines Consciences of Today

A professor of philosophy at the New School in New York, now on leave of absence to write a book, has taken time from research work to voice his views on conditions in the world today—25 years after the start of World War II.

He is Eugene T. Gadol, now residing in Woodstock. A native of Austria, Mr. Gadol came to the United States in 1938. He has taught philosophy in Columbia University, Lehigh University, Brooklyn College and has been on the staff of the New School for the past six years. His wife, Joan, is currently chairman of the Department of History at City University (City College), and plans to commute weekends between Woodstock and New York City.

The views expressed by Prof. Gadol in his statement entitled "Twenty-five Years Later," are his own. They are as follows:

"September 1 marks the 25th anniversary of the official beginning of World War II. On that day in 1939, the rape of Europe which had begun with the not so unwilling seduction of Austria and the bitterly felt spoliation of abandoned Czechoslovakia continued with the brutal attack on Poland by overwhelming hordes of Nazi tank units, infantry columns, and dive bombers. If World War II was largely unwanted, the outcome of a series of accidents rather than design, Hitler's war on humanity was planned by him and a fanatical, ruthless, and barbaric clique of madmen, urging on their absolute master who was determined to impose his racist Reich upon the rest of mankind for at least a thousand years.

"Six years later, Nazi Germany and its two partners had surrendered in utter defeat to the Allies. The flower of fifty-three nations, over 51 million fighting men and civilians, had perished. Untold millions survived maimed. The material damage was incalculable, the spiritual damage unfathomable, and yet there remain serious doubts today as to whether the lessons of that disaster have been learned, if such a holocaust is capable of teaching any lesson at all.

"Doubts remain, because the roots of totalitarian thinking which led to the second World War are still not properly understood. These roots are not economic or political. They are intellectual, and yet they are not rational. Specifically, they are of a mythic character, to which most rationalistic theories of human behavior do not do justice. If one may be permitted an oversimplification, the mythic character of totalitarian thought is displayed in the belief that the individual is subservient to the group, and that the group, be it economic, political, ethnic, or biological, is inherently superior to any other group and entitled to exploit or destroy it.

"The particular form of this type of group-thought that festered in Germany was nationalistic racism. Now, 25 years later, what is the likelihood of a recurrence of a racist inspired total war? On the surface, very little. If man has not yet accepted the notion that all men are equal in their rights, at least his chances for fighting a war to prove that this is not the case have surely diminished. One and all, we have become duly impressed with the fact that modern weapons make war on a grand scale impossible. The balance of terror established by atomic weapons seems to insure that no nation would willingly risk a new conflagration. International agreements among whole blocs of nations composed of former friends and foes support the growth of a world community, the most prominent exponent of which is the United Nations. International commerce, trade, and cultural exchange draw the nations into an ever closer network of cooperatives, so that last century's stranger has literally become this year's neighbor. To be sure, there have been and continue to be 'brush fire' wars on all continents, but they seem to be kept under control by the Big Powers and the United Nations. Thus, in spite of the occasional trouble spots on its surface, the globe seems once more to be under self-control.

"Yet beneath the outward appearance, there is ample evidence that mythic group-thinking is ready to loosen once more the forces of fear, oppression, and fanaticism in the form of racism or nationalism, given the propitious moment and the right clique to unleash them.

Nazi Experts Active

"Take Germany, for example. For all the show West Germany makes of prosecuting small time Nazis, its higher echelons, the ranks of ministers, state-secretaries, judges, prosecutors, generals, and police officials are laden with 'ex-Nazis.' The scandals around Globke, Oberlander, Frankel, Kruger, and Trettnier make evident the continued Nazi influence in the West German government. And Nazi experts abroad, if they do not enjoy political asylum in Spain or South America, are selling their services to Nasser, their Semitic inferior. Small wonder then, that some of the Semite inferior. Small wonder then, that some of the lower elements of German society may feel that they can engage in overt acts of anti-Semitism with impunity. In Frankfurt two weeks ago, Jewish graves were desecrated, and swastikas were painted on a church to sidetrack the police.

"But what about America, the land of the free? It is so free, in fact, that only last week in Atlantic City a handful of young men in their 20's could parade in Nazi uniforms before the site of the National Democratic Convention. They received but a 90-day jail sentence from a judge who promptly suspended it provided they left town! Of course, racism in the United States does not take its most virulent form in anti-Semitism. If proof were needed that all is not well at home, the existence of extremist groups and the necessity of passing a Civil Rights Bill should drive home the point that the Negro is still regarded in all too many sections of the United States as inferior, and he is treated accordingly as a second-class citizen.

"The ugly examples of bigotry and prejudice can be extended indefinitely, at home and abroad. In this year of the Olympics, the symbol of brotherly love and universal understanding, South Africa is suspended from participation for its racist policies. World War II may be over, but the forces that led to it are still very much alive.

"This need not mean that another world conflagration is immediately in the offing. Racism does not seem to play a vital role in Soviet thought, although the anti-Semitic policies of some of the satellites of the Soviet Union, as well as the Russian government, are well known. Moreover, for better or for worse, though apparently for better, the suc-

50th Wedding Anniversary Celebration Here

DR. AND MRS. STEPHEN W. RYDER

The celebration of the 50th wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Stephen W. Ryder of Bradenton, Fla., was held Saturday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

An informal dinner and reception was given by their children, Stephen W. Ryder Jr. of Plattsburgh, Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey of Kingston, and Mrs. John J. Villalva of Port Washington, L. I. There were 36 guests in attendance, including Frank E. Eighmey, great grandson of the honored couple.

A wedding cake, fashioned as nearly as possible like the original cake, was baked in honor of the occasion. Dr. and Mrs. Ryder were married in Karuzawa, Japan on September 4, 1914, by Dr. David Spencer of the Methodist Mission in Japan. A graduate of Yale University, class of 1909 and New Brunswick Seminary, class of 1913, S. W. Ryder went to Japan as a missionary for the Reformed Church in America.

Mrs. Ryder, the former Reba C. Snapp, attended Syracuse University and Folts Institute at Herkimer, N. Y., and went to Japan as a Methodist Missionary. They met on the mission field, were married there, and their three children were born in Japan. The family resided in Japan for 16 years, finally coming to America and eventually settling in Flatbush, Ulster County, where Dr. Ryder secured the Flatbush Reformed Church as minister for 17 years.

Following his ministry in sons of Stalin have recognized that war in the atomic age has become an impracticality. Nonetheless, the communist form of group-thinking is still powerful and active, and its crusade for the conquest of men's minds goes unabated.

Chinese Threat

"The situation is complicated, however, when we turn to the potentially most powerful exponents of totalitarian thinking, the Red Chinese. Racism coupled with a reckless belligerence render Communist China potentially as dangerous as Hitler's Germany was in 1933. The Chinese for centuries have been plagued by a superiority complex as regards their culture and race, and the virulent nationalism of Mao Tse-tung's communism gives overt expression to the deeply felt mythic roots of Chinese totalitarianism. When the Chinese announce that a war with their adversaries will cost them 300 million people, which they would be willing to sacrifice to defeat their enemies, they mean it. There is no feeling or respect for the individual which can either determine or guide the thinking of the present-day Chinese rulers.

"There, and in the collective thinking of the newly emerging African states, particularly the Arab ones, lies the greatest danger of a new world war—not in Europe and not in Russia. 'What is America to do?' It is a sad but inescapable fact that the candidates and spokesmen of both major parties failed, at their recent conventions, to take the long range view that is required. The one overriding issue of our time, the issue of world peace, has been dwarfed by the parochial statements and standpoints expressed in the platforms and major speeches of all the candidates. Except for the usual vague pro-

Miller Girls Are Impressed by Life In Arizona Lands

By DICK STUART
Associated Press Writer
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) —

Weary and clutching a Navajo rug as a remembrance of a long trip over northern Arizona, the older daughters of Republican Vice Presidential candidate William Miller returned to Phoenix Wednesday night.

"You might say we had a Cook's Tour of this big country," said 20-year-old Elizabeth Anne as she and sister Mary Karen, 17, stepped from a twin-engine airplane.

The girls made the 800-mile jaunt with the sons of GOP Presidential nominee Barry Goldwater. Barry Jr., 26, was the pilot, while Mike, 24, and a friend, Leon Hauck of Los Angeles, pointed out the sights in the rugged desert and mountain lands of Arizona and Utah.

Elizabeth made friends with a Navajo mother when she cradled an Indian child in her arms. Then, when they spotted two young Navajos herding sheep, the Miller girls attached Goldwater-Miller campaign buttons to the manes of the ponies the boys were riding.

"This country is just fabulous," commented Elizabeth, a senior at Newton College in Boston. "It is so big and beautiful. I can see why the Goldwaters love it so."

"The New York World's Fair was fun," she added. "But there is nothing like this in New York."

Mary, a senior at Stoneridge High in Washington, found it hard to believe that people actually live in such quiet places. When told the nearest city was 180 miles away, the teenager indicated she prefers the active big city life at the present.

Area Artist's Work In Vatican Pavilion At New York Fair

On exhibit in the Vatican Pavilion, New York World's Fair, is a work of art "Miraculous Madonna of Ostrobrama." It was done by Roman Adler of Kerhonkson.

The art piece is made of 10 different metals. It consists of 36 major parts and a total of 260 separate pieces. The main sculpture is on the background of a shield "Ryngraf." The Knight's Shield was used by Polish Knights in the Middle Ages in defense of the faith. It is also reported it took three years for Mr. Adler to complete his art work.

Mr. Adler was born in Warsaw, Poland. He came to the United States in 1941 and has resided in the Kerhonkson area since 1950. He obtained his engineering degree from the University of Warsaw and during the early years of World War II, served with Polish Air Force.

Among Mr. Adler's other art achievements are the altar bells and sacristy bell in Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Kerhonkson. These were given by Mr. Adler to the parish church as a gift.

Hudson Valley Philharmonic Commences Its Membership Drive; Concert on October 5

The Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society will begin its 1964-65 series of concerts in Ulster County on October 5 at the Community Theater.

According to Ulster County Chapter President Stephen E. Huben Jr., "we have engaged Leon Fleisher, world famous pianist as soloist with the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra for our first concert of the season."

"Since 1952, when he became the first American to win a major competition—the Queen Elizabeth of Belgium Concours, he has grown accustomed to key-board triumphs. Since then Fleisher's fame has spread throughout four continents," he added.

Memberships are now available for the forthcoming season. General chairman for the 1964 membership campaign is Dr. Richard J. Messina of Saugerties. In the interest of acquainting area residents with the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Dr. Messina will be assisted by residents of surrounding localities.

In the area, Dr. Messina is assisted by Arling Kalleberg (team captain), Miss Barbara Olsen, Ulster County Community College; and Norman Rafalowsky, Walter Gilman, Miss Mildred Newkirk, Dr. Gerald Gorman, Robert Schneller, Robert Courtney, Mrs. Sadie Lutzn, Leo Kilcoyne, Mrs. William Hobbs, Walter Levy and Mrs. Amos Newcombe, all of Kingston.

LEON FLEISHER

In Hurley, committee members include Mrs. Charles Ronder (team captain), Mrs. Carol Walagurski, Mrs. Joseph Pfrommer, Mrs. Frank Cashin, Mrs. Andrew Currie and Mrs. C. Lincoln Christensen. Miss Katherine Huben, is the Society's representative in Rosendale and Mrs. H. E. VanWinkle is the Stone Ridge representative.

Membership in the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society includes admission to three concerts. All seats are reserved and preferred seating is available on a first-come, first served basis.

Check Brush Fire

Ulster Hose Co. 5 volunteers worked more than two hours early Wednesday night to extinguish a stubborn brush fire that burned near the Town of Ulster dump. Several times in recent weeks the firefighters were called to extinguish fires in the same area. Hurley, Port Ewen and Shokan also reported brush or grass fires yesterday.

None Hurt in Collision

Operators of two vehicles apparently escaped injury at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday, when their cars were in collision on Route 28 near the Sunset Drive-in Theater. Trooper Robert Houghtaling reported Carl Devo, 61, of 5 Joy's Lane, city, was driving west and attempting a left turn when the car was in collision with a vehicle operated by Arlette Prince, 28, R.F.D., Box 226, West Hurley, who also was traveling west on the highway.

Bob Graves Resigns

Name Tony Alexander New Manager for KSC

Will Take Over In New League

The appointment of Tony Alexander as team manager replacing Bob Graves was announced today by the Kingston Sport Club, champions of the Central New York Soccer Association.

Alexander, a star player and coach, will take over the No. 1 team which is scheduled to compete in the five-state American Soccer League.

Graves, a highly successful manager over the past three years, resigned in order to manage the second team which will continue Sport Club representation in the state league.

During Graves' three-year tenure as manager, the Sport Club booters captured three consecutive CNYSSA championships and compiled a phenomenal league record of 54 wins, three losses and three ties. The team won permanent possession of the Schenectady Gazette Trophy for its three championships.

Beat Leading Teams

In addition to the league victories, Graves piloted the Sport Club to wins over many powerful independent teams and Canadian squads including the Montreal Kickers and this Sunday's attraction — the Kitchener Concoria Club.

Graves' overall record as manager included 66 wins, eight losses and three ties.

The hustling Alexander, who faces a tremendous task of readying a team for the major league, has had considerable experience in managing and coaching soccer teams. In the American League, the locals will be competing against teams from five states. It is far stronger than the Central circuit and moulding a winning combination will pose a formidable challenge to Alexander.

The Sport Club is looking forward to its Sunday contest with the Kitchener Concoria Club of Ontario. The locals won the international contest last year, 3-2. Area soccer fans are invited to see these two great teams in action.

Musial Reported As Satisfactory

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "I had planned to lose some weight," said Stan Musial Wednesday night, "but I think I carried it too far."

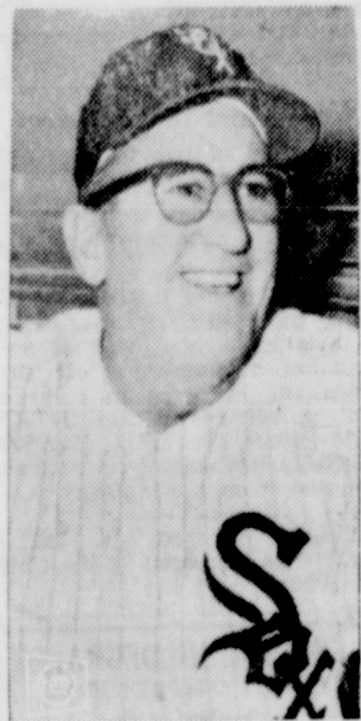

The former St. Louis Cardinal baseball star remained confined at Jewish Hospital following his collapse Tuesday night at the Cardinal-Milwaukee game at Busch Stadium.

But, said Dr. I. C. Middleman, the Cardinals' and Musial's physician, "Stan should be out of the hospital in a few days."

The 43-year-old physical fitness director, now a Cardinal vice president, experienced extensive diarrhea and vomiting causing dehydration prior to his collapse.

"His condition is satisfactory and he is being kept under observation," explained the physician. "We will conduct various tests to determine the exact nature of his ailment."

Dr. Middleman said Musial suffered an "enteritis virus," brought on by emotional and physical exhaustion.

HAPPY DAYS—Last spring Al Lopez told everyone he would have the Chicago White Sox in the American League pennant race. People laughed. Now it's his turn.

WARD HOLE-IN-ONE TOURNAMENT:

Montgomery Ward will stage a hole-in-one tournament open to all area golfers on Saturday between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. at Kessman's Golf and Country Club, Albany Avenue Extension. Anyone wishing to enter the contest can obtain their free entry blanks from any cashier at the local Ward store. Pictured discussing the coming event are Donald G. Semeraro, Merchandise Manager, of the local Ward store, Herbert Kessman, owner of Kessman's Golf and Country Club, and Greg Kessman who will be a tournament official.

Semeraro also stated that "this tournament will be for teams of father and son, mother and daughter, and also for any adult individual who desires to participate." Twelve prizes will be awarded, three to the father and son teams, three to the mother and daughter teams, and three each to the top individual men and women contestants. Semeraro also noted that "in the event that there is no hole-in-one on the 135 yard range, the winners will be determined by nearness to the cup. Each participant will be allowed three balls which will be recorded by the official scorer."

Mel Queen Better Than Dad

Star's Pride, Hambletonian Winner, Called the 'Fastest'

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — "Fastest trotter I've ever seen. He is even faster than I thought he was. And he could have gone even faster than I thought he was. And he could have gone even faster in the first heat."

That is how 44-year-old John Simpson Sr., who has been driving and training harness horses for 25 years, sums up Ayres.

Ayres, the little hot-rod son of the great Star's Pride, won the 39th Hambletonian in successive heats on the well-manicured clay mile oval of the Du Quoin State Fairgrounds Wednesday.

He was an official even-money favorite in the betless race and the railbirds had him pegged perfectly as the overwhelming choice in the field of nine 3-year-old trotting colts.

A television cable stretched above the starting line cast its shadow on the track and the highly strong Ayres shied at it as the first heat opened.

Makes Good Recovery
"He took two or three bad steps but didn't go completely off stride," said Simpson.

Recovering quickly, Ayres peeled off like a dragster and soon was moving into good position as Sesebo, Scribe Rodney and Rain Water broke, to help scatter the field.

Ayres, owned by Mrs. Charlotte N. Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., wheeled out of fourth place at the three-quarter pole, took the lead near mid-stretch and won by one length over Big John and 32-year-old Eddie Wheeler.

The time was a sensational 1:56 4-5, erasing the Hambletonian record of 1:57 3-5 set by Floris last year and matching the all-time competitive record mile by a trotter of any age.

The latter mark was set by Speedy Scot at Lexington last fall.

Son of Ex-Yankee Lashes Key Hit In 1-0 Victory

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Fortunately for Cincinnati, Mel Queen doesn't quite follow in his father's footsteps.

Queen, a rookie lashed a single that drove in the only run of the game in the Reds' 1-0 victory over Chicago in 12 innings Wednesday night.

The triumph kept the second-place Reds 5½ games behind Philadelphia in the National League pennant race.

The 21-year-old right fielder is the son of Mel Queen, a pitcher who compiled a 27-40 lifetime record with the New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates in the 1940s and early 1950s.

Luckily for the elder Queen, he was a pitcher. He certainly couldn't have reached the majors on his hitting. In eight seasons, he somehow managed to get 17 hits in 164 times at bat for a .104 average. He also batted in four runs in his career.

Young Queen went 2-for-6 Wednesday, raising his average to .218 and his RBI total to 11. He has compiled the record mostly as a pinch hitter. Only recently has he been playing somewhat regularly.

In other NL games, Philadelphia edged Houston 2-1, San Francisco blanked New York 4-0, St. Louis defeated Milwaukee 6-2 and Los Angeles downed Pittsburgh 8-5 in 12 innings.

Queen's single in the 12th inning followed singles by pinch hitter Marty Keough and Chico Ruiz. It gave Jim O'Toole, who pitched a seven-inning, 14th victory in 20 decisions, Bob Buhl allowed the Reds five hits in the first eight innings.

Short's 15th Win

Chris Short hurled a four-hitter, posting his 15th triumph against seven losses for the Phillies, who won the game in the fourth inning. Wes Covington and Clay Dalrymple singled, were sacrificed to second and third and scored on Tony Taylor's single to center field.

The Colts scored in the sixth when Eddie Kasko walked, went to second on Mike White's single and came around on a single by Bob Aspromonte.

Juan Marichal made only his second start since July 29 and stopped the Mets on four hits. Marichal, now 16-6, had been bothered by a back ailment. Tom Haller slammed a homer in the fourth inning while Hal Lanier singled across two runs in the ninth.

The Cardinals won their eighth game in the last nine behind Bob Gibson's seven-hitter. Gibson, 13-10, was backed by Ken Boyer and Curt Flood, who each knocked in two runs. Two errors by Denis Menke helped St. Louis to three runs in the fourth inning, two on Flood's single.

Derrill Griffith's bases-loaded, two-run double broke a 5-5 tie and started the Dodgers on the way to their 12-inning triumph. A third run scored in the inning on a force play. The Pirates rallied for three big runs in the eighth the last two scoring as second baseman Nate Oliver threw wildly to home with the bases loaded.

Pitches No-Hitter

MONTICELLO—Bill Mitchell fired a no-hitter and the Monticello Raceway Horsemen won their 24th game against only one defeat, walloping the Nemerson Hotel, 16-2, this afternoon.

The Horsemen sprayed base hits in all directions and scored in every inning but the third in completely outplaying the home side.

Score by innings:

Minoso Deal Is Burning Issue For White Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox had their tense bid for the American League pennant complicated Thursday by a dispute with Commissioner Ford Frick over the services of ancient Minnie Minoso.

What seemed a routine White Sox acquisition of 41-year-old outfielder Minoso from Indianapolis Tuesday suddenly became a burning issue when Frick Wednesday ruled the Sox guilty of hanky-panky in the transaction.

Even as the White Sox rode behind Gary Peters' five-hit shutout for a 7-0 triumph over the pesky Detroit Tigers at Comiskey Park Wednesday night, General Manager Ed Short accused Frick of "just being obstinate" in the Minoso case.

The Sox, still a half-game behind the pace-setting Baltimore Orioles, had sought the aged, but still fiery Minoso for pinch-hitting and inspirational purposes in the September stretch run.

"I will talk to Frick again today and if he wants it, I'll put Minoso on irrevocable waivers and any club can have him for $20,000," Short asserted.

Frick claims the White Sox action in shipping Minoso to Indianapolis of the Pacific Coast League six weeks ago and then repurchasing him Tuesday, was a "cover up" and violated intent of the rules on player transaction.

Short asserted no major league club claimed Minoso when waivers were asked on him between July 13 and July 17. Minoso then signed with Indianapolis, a White Sox farm club.

Minoso, who played 10 of his 14 major league seasons with the White Sox, batted .270 for Indianapolis prior to his purchase by the Sox Tuesday.

Hanner Retained For 13th Season By the Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) —

Dave Hanner, the granddaddy of the Green Bay Packers, is resting easier. He has made the club for his 13th National Football League season.

"Every year it's more of a struggle and you have to bear down harder," the veteran defensive tackle said today. "You always have to fight for your job. There's always some young guy trying to beat you out."

Although 34, Hanner doesn't feel he's too old for his role in one of pro football's most rugged lines.

First Seniors Entry Is Filed by Deanie Elwyn

BY CHARLES J. TIANO
(Freeman Sports Editor)

There never was any question about who would file the first entry for the 1964 Ulster County Seniors Golf Association tournament.

Allen Dean Elwyn, proprietor of Deanie's in Woodstock, earned (or was forced into) that honor shortly after 1964 burst on the scene.

It took some doing but it happened. An informant laid bare the secret that Deanie had finally completed a half century of residency on this planet.

"Invitations" from the Seniors Association to compete in the annual golf soiree had in recent years drawn sharp reactions from the restaurateur, who stubbornly refused to divulge his age and protested vigorously that "I'm not 50 yet."

Party Did It
Well, when a daddy gets to be 50, the family does something about a celebration and that's how the information leaked out. Once he was confronted with the evidence by a Seniors representative, Deanie responded gracefully to a hurriedly contrived "entry blank" for 1964.

He quickly wrote out a check for the entry fee and dispatched it to A. J. de Lisio, the Association president, in St. Petersburg, Fla. As the saying goes, he "was in."

Entry blanks for the Sept. 13 affair at Woodstock Country Club have been mailed to all of last year's players. All others may obtain blanks at their respective pro shops.

The deadline for entries is Wednesday, Sept. 9 midnight.

The tournament will be staged in five classifications and is open to all golfers 50 years and over. The age groups are: Class A, 70 and over; Class B, 65 to 69; Class C, 60 to 64; Class D, 55 to 59; Class E, 50 to 54.

Versalles Ruins Pappas' Bid

Single in 8th Ruins His Bid For No-Hit Game

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Zorro has left his mark on Milt Pappas.

Pappas pitched no-hit ball for 7 2/3 innings and wound up with a one-hitter as the Baltimore Orioles maintained their slim, one-half game grip on the American League lead by edging Minnesota 2-0 Wednesday night.

The unkind out was administered with two out in the eighth by Twin's shortstop Zoilo (Zorro) Versalles, who swung at a first-pitch fastball and ripped it between third and short to deprive Pappas of a no-hitter.

Pappas admitted after the game that he had given Versalles a fat fastball, losing a battle of wits.

"It was one of those funny situations," said the 25-year-old right-hander. "The first two batters in the eighth hit the first pitch. It was a 1,000-1 chance that Versalles would swing at the first pitch, too."

"I threw it right down the middle, and I was surprised when he swung at it."

Pappas had no other difficulties as he struck out 10 and allowed only one other base runner — Earl Battey walked on four straight pitches in the third inning — while bringing his record to 13-5 with his sixth shutout.

Still, he had to share the pitching spotlight with three others.

Gary Peters kept the second-place Chicago White Sox right behind the Orioles, bringing his record to 16-7 with a five-hit shutout in a 7-0 victory over Detroit.

Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels posted his ninth shutout and his 17th victory with a four-hit, 4-0 victory over New York that dropped the third-place Yankees three games off the pace.

And Lee Stange made the most of a rare opportunity, tying a major league record by striking out four batters in an inning as Cleveland walloped Washington 9-0.

The Orioles' supported Pappas with only four hits but two were homers, by Sam Bowens in the second and Luis Aparicio in the ninth. Both were off Dick Stigman.

Peters pitched his third shutout, drove in one run with a single and also collected a double. He knocked home the final run of a four-run fifth inning uprising that put it out of reach after Bill Skowron supplied the big hit with a two-run single.

The White Sox had actually scored enough for Peters in the second inning when an error and doubles by Pete Ward and Mike Hershberg reproduced two runs off Hank Aguirre.

Chance, the major league leader in shutouts, is now tied with Chicago's Juan Pizarro for the most victories in the AL after boosting his record to 17-6 by snapping the Yankees' four-game winning streak.

Chance got all the support he needed when Joe Adcock followed an

Liston Is Listed

No. 1 Contender

By Ring Magazine

NEW YORK (AP) — Ring Magazine, refusing to go along with the World Boxing Association in outlawing a return match between champion Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston, listed Liston as the No. 1 heavyweight contender today.

Ring also said it didn't support the WBA threat to take Clay's title away from him if he meets Liston in a return, tentatively set for November at a site to be announced.

The magazine said it sees in Clay's $50,000 deal with International Promotions, Inc., and the Nilon brothers a legal mandate to give Liston his first defense call on Cassius' services, which means a return bout with Liston.

The 4-year-old trotters will clash again at Freehold Raceway Sept. 12 before the leaders come together in the $50,000 finale at Roosevelt Raceway Sept. 19.

Speedy Scot Has Tough Schedule

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) — Speedy Scot, needing a victory in each of the two remaining races of the Harness Tracks of America Trot series to qualify for the finals, takes on seven rivals Friday night in the $10,000 stop at Saratoga Raceway.

The 4-year-old trotters will clash again at Freehold Raceway Sept. 12 before the leaders come together in the $50,000 finale at Roosevelt Raceway Sept. 19.

Can't See Father Without Pox Shot

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — An Australian woman who flew here from Atlanta, Ga., to see her critically ill father has been placed in quarantine for two weeks.

Authorities said the smallpox vaccination certificate of Kathleen Milton, 26, has expired and therefore she cannot be allowed to enter Australia immediately. She said she could not have a new vaccination now because she is expecting a baby.

Her husband, Dr. Rod Milton, is an Australian studying and working at the Georgian Clinic in Atlanta.

Mrs. Milton said her father, George Herriman, 74, is gravely ill with cancer in Brisbane.

Rainmaking Fund Nearly Depleted, Ask Farmers' Aid

Funds for rainmaking operations in Dutchess County and southern Columbia County are about depleted and farmers of the area have been asked to contribute in order that efforts could continue to aid drought conditions.

Sidney Mead, Tivoli, president of the Dutchess County Farm Bureau, expressed the hope that financial contributions would be made to further attempts to induce rain to fall in the drought sectors.

It was reported that the original funds donated by farmers are exhausted and more monies will be needed to prevent discontinuance of the program. According to reports the rainmaking operations by Howell Associates, of Lexington, Mass., cost $100 a day.

Mead said the rainmaking program is being conducted on a day-to-day basis. Farmers or anyone else in the area, willing to make contributions towards the program, are asked to communicate with Sidney Mead, Tivoli, whose telephone is listed under Red Hook.

The rainmaking program was launched locally on Aug. 5.

New Minimum Wage of $1.15 Effective Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new federal minimum wage of $1.15 per hour goes into effect today, covering some 3.6 million workers who were brought under federal labor standards in 1961.

But the Labor Department estimates the law will bring pay raises to only about half a million of these. The others are already making at least $1.15.

The Labor Department figures the pay raises for about 565,000 workers making less than that will increase their annual income by a total of about $115 million — an average of about $200.

The hourly increase from $1 primarily affects workers in retail, service and construction trades.

Next year, they will step up to the $1.25 minimum that already covers some 25 million American workers.

The law taking effect today, a 1961 amendment to the Fair Labor Standards Act, also requires time and one-half pay for overtime beyond 42 hours a week, instead of 44 hours.

Khanh Returns As Viet Chief, Heart Is Better

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh again assumed full command of South Viet Nam's shaky government today. The premier said he had won support of Buddhist leaders who were threatening to renew antigovernment violence unless their demands were met.

Khanh's return to power after a five-day "temporary retirement" at the mountain resort of Dalat was disclosed by a government spokesman following a six-hour emergency Cabinet session. Khanh flew to Saigon from Dalat amid reports that he was demanding full support from all members of the caretaker government that had been led by acting Premier Nguyen Xuan Oanh.

"The military has promised Gen. Khanh their complete support. The situation looks much more stabilized today," the spokesman said.

Plot Charged
Khanh, 37, was expected to retain members of the powerful Dai Viet party in the government and the armed forces. Before Khanh went to Dalat last week, following violent antigovernment demonstrations, he charged that members of the party had plotted against his government. He conferred today with Nguyen Ton Hoan, leader of the party who resigned Wednesday as vice premier after charging Khanh's government had no legal standing.

Also under consideration by school district officials is the possible curtailment of programs and the use of the gymnasium for academic classes.

The regular meeting of the school board was scheduled for Monday, Sept. 7, but because of the holiday it was decided to call the session earlier.

Six From County Attending MD Parley
Six delegates of the Ulster County Muscular Dystrophy Association are attending the Bi-annual National Muscular Dystrophy Conference of over 350 chapters today and Friday at the Biltmore Hotel in New York City.

Attending from Ulster County are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Greer of 22 Staples Street, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kirschner of 40 Elmendorf Street, Mrs. Lewis Kirschner of 190 Rogers Street, Port Ewen, and Mrs. Herbert Rougier of 106 Abruy Street, Kingston. Jerry Lewis, the national chairman of the association, is also attending the conference.

Dies in Car Crash
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Kim W. Boerst, 18, of Kenmore, was killed today when the automobile in which he was riding left the road and struck a tree in nearby Grand Island.

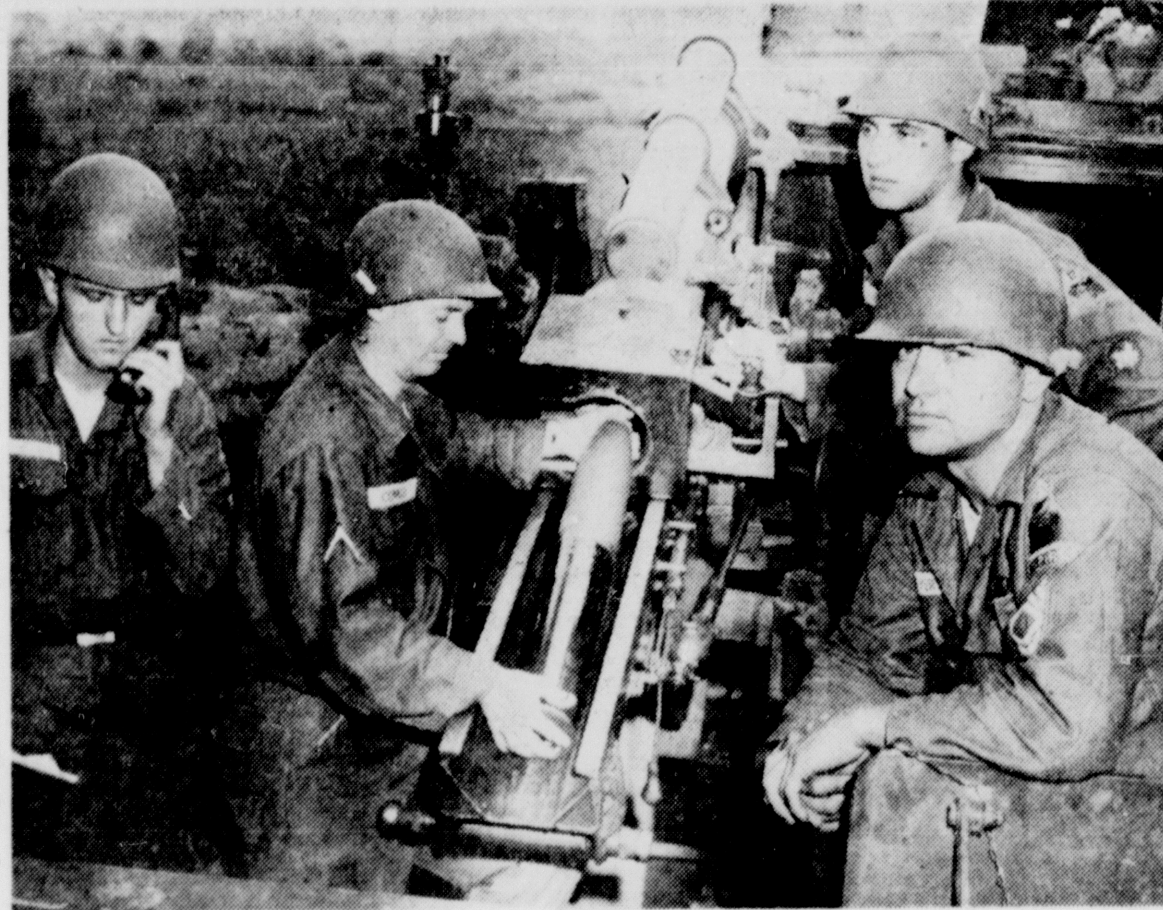

Heart Improving
"Gen. Khanh's heart is much better. I cannot tell you much more," government officials told newsmen today.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor had indicated Khanh would again assume power in Viet Nam.

Oanh, a Harvard-educated economist, took over just before the government cracked down on the street fighting that wracked Saigon. He said then that he would head a caretaker government for two months, but that he still considered Khanh the real leader as head of the ruling triumvirate of generals.

The United States regards Khanh as the strongest leader in South Viet Nam. It has made no secret of its desire to have him back at the helm.

Wallkill to Mull More Classrooms At Board Session

Discussion on proposals to provide additional classrooms in district schools, is slated for a meeting tonight of the Board of Education of the Wallkill Central School District.

Supervising Principal Robert J. Robinson said it is quite probable that the board will decide whether to result in the district voters a school site proposition which was defeated on August 11. The proposition called for the expenditure of $45,000 for purchase of a site for a proposed new high school.

The school official stated that it is inevitable that space will have to be rented a year hence to provide classrooms for the elementary pupils. He said a proposal to have double sessions is farther away than a year.

Also under consideration by school district officials is the possible curtailment of programs and the use of the gymnasium for academic classes.

The regular meeting of the school board was scheduled for Monday, Sept. 7, but because of the holiday it was decided to call the session earlier.

Reach Agreement On Department Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees have agreed on an appropriation bill to finance activities of the Welfare and Labor Departments during the fiscal year that started June 30.

The approximately $7-billion money bill was cleared Wednesday with House action expected later in the week.

The biggest item is $6.4 billion for the Welfare Department, including $2,780,000,000 for grants to the states for public assistance.

Managers Startled By Nimbus Photos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Project managers of the Nimbus weather satellite say they are amazed that its pictures of the earth are so clear.

The satellite's remarkable performance was described at a news conference Wednesday at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Flight Center.

Harry Press, Nimbus project manager, said that the satellite's elliptical orbit — instead of a planned circular orbit — "has not damaged the satellite's mission substantially. We are quite pleased with our ability to recover from the unplanned orbit and meet most of the mission objectives."

The satellite was launched last Friday from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

Welfare's GNP Cut Stable for 15 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The proportion of the Gross National Product spent on public welfare has remained stable over the past 15 years, even though the amount of money spent has grown tremendously, the Welfare Administration said. The proportion, a study issued Wednesday said, has stayed at nine-tenths of one per cent. In 1963, public assistance expenditures exceeded $4 billion.

Agency Issues Caution Note To Pilots Trying Scuba Dive

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—A small airplane cleared the end of the airport runway, climbing rapidly. The altimeter indicator rotated slowly as the pilot pointed the nose of the aircraft into a climb.

The pilot, his wife and two children had been enjoying a few days at one of the large Oklahoma lakes.

A half hour before take-off, the man had taken a final scuba (for self-contained underwater breathing apparatus) dive.

When the altimeter of the plane reached the 8,000-foot reading, the pilot lunged forward—complaining of sharp pains in his knee and elbow.

Hypothetical Case
The explanation, in essence, is that pilots who scuba dive should allow adequate time to elapse before they get behind the controls of a plane.

The pilot was a victim of the bends—a condition commonly associated with divers who move too quickly from a deep location to the surface of the water.

The situation — and the people — described here are hypothetical. But the Federal Aviation Agency says it is based on records of private airplane accidents and facts gleaned from their investigations. The FAA says there are recorded instances of private pilots suffering the bends while flying after scuba diving some recovered sufficiently to land safely, others crashed.

Fatal Danger
Can a man who dives in relatively shallow water also become so afflicted when he goes up in an aircraft too soon?

Scientists at the Federal Aviation Agency say it is based on records of private airplane accidents and facts gleaned from their investigations. The FAA says there are recorded instances of private pilots suffering the bends while flying after scuba diving some recovered sufficiently to land safely, others crashed.

tion Agency's aeromedical research center here says there is very real danger of severe pains and possibly blacking out and death.

One well known law of physics, called Henry's Law, tells what happens to the human body in circumstances such as those encountered by the pilot. It says, "The amount of gas dissolved in the human body is directly proportionate to the pressure on the body."

In layman's language, if a person was under pressure, say at 100 feet of water, certain gases are absorbed in the body. If that pressure is rapidly lightened, the gas is apt to form bubbles in the blood stream.

That is what happens in the bends. Nitrogen bubbles form in the blood stream and seem to stop in the joints. Intense pain results.
